My kaleidoscopic eyes can see many things
in one moment of reflection:

Symmetrical patterns

chaotic images

colorful emotions

melancholy feelings.

I remain the same person —

Only my perspective continually changes

And I
Try to live
Take failure as rehearsal
Today as Scenery for tomorrow.

Sometimes I see happiness
from afar
But then there are times when I can almost touch it with my nose

I've been walking in the dusk so long
I've almost forgotten
what the dawn looks like

Patterned lives or Spectrum skies?

My perspective flows on — and reality changes

The sun whispers through the trees and every now and then — catches in my eyes
But my heart has eyes that my mind knows nothing of.

Life
but a little gleam of time
between two eternities

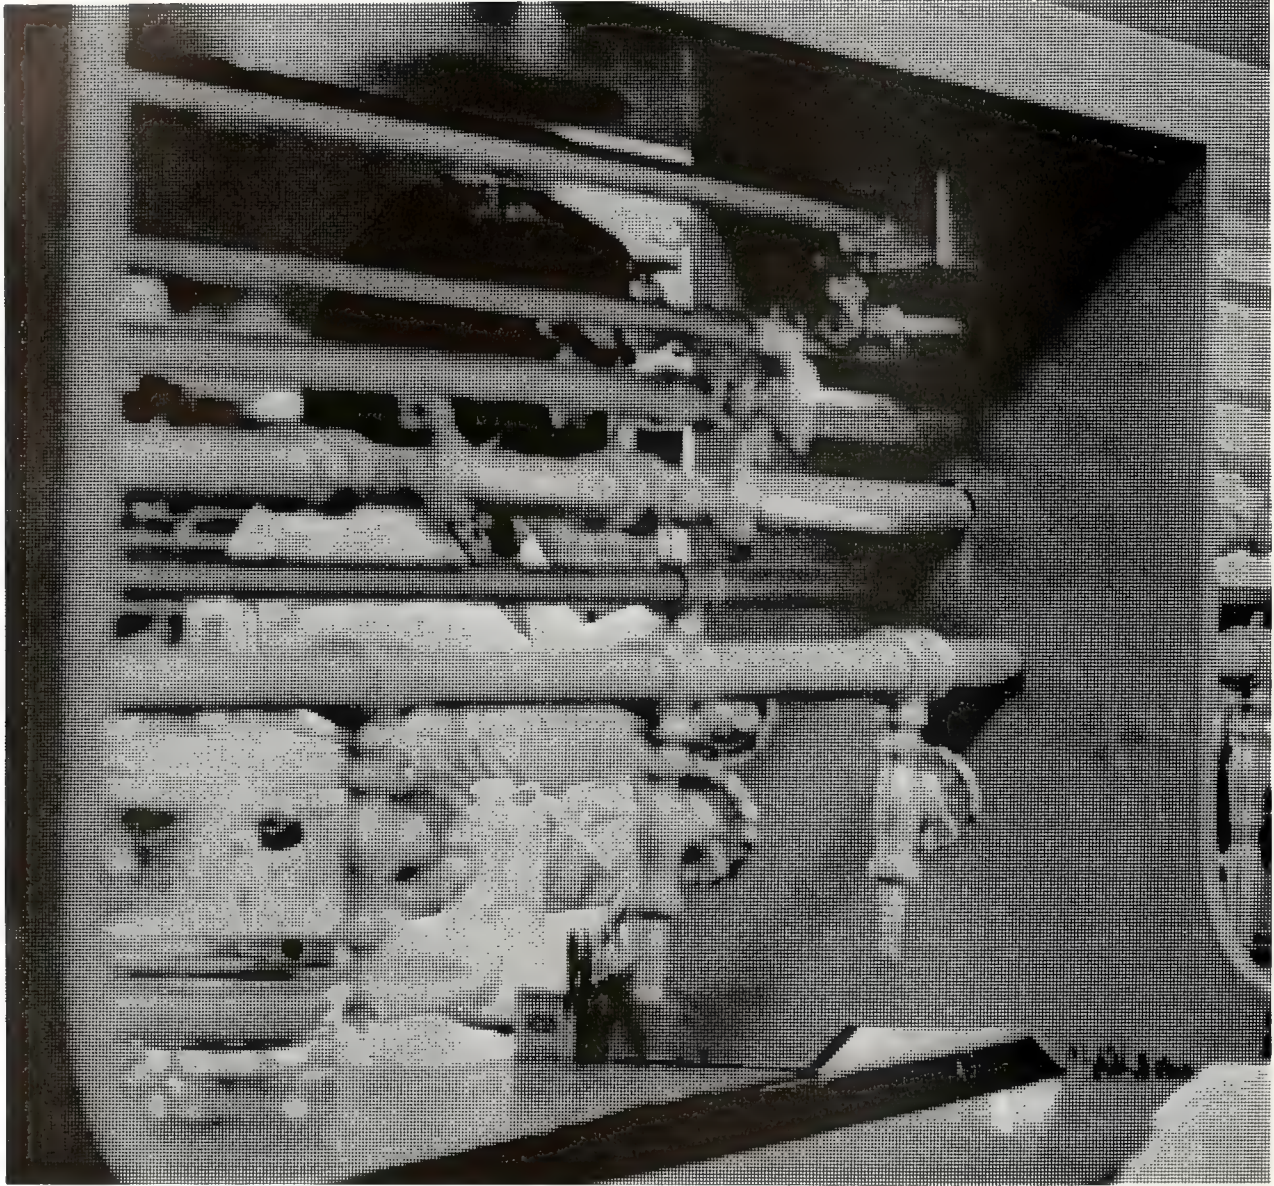

COLLEGES

"... The Only Honest Way."

The College of Agricultural coordinates departmental clubs and honoraries and serves as a communication bridge between Agriculture students. Enrollment increase has placed new emphasis on excellence of instruction. New buildings underway include a meats laboratory, a new series of greenhouses, and Phase I of the Agricultural Science building to be completed in 1970. Dr. Martin Waananen sees a myriad of exciting developments for the College of Agriculture.

Forestry Problems Studied

A chance to branch out in forestry is offered by Xi Sigma Pi, forestry honorary. Forestry problems are presented and discussed to stimulate better education of students. The activities include meetings and discussion.

ASCA Sponsors Harvest Ball

Students in the field of agriculture belong to the Associated Students of the College of Agriculture. Coordinating departmental clubs and honoraries and serving as a communication bridge between Ag students was the main purpose of the organization. Led by Pete Weidenbach, President, and Dr. Martin Waananen, Advisor, the group oversaw the Harvest Ball, award for Aggie of the Year, and scholarship.

Ag Econ Aids in Harvest Ball Ticket Sales

Sleeping in a hall in Bozeman, Montana, giving a fall barbeque, and a public speaking contest hardly seem to fall under the activities of an Agricultural Economics Club. Acquainting students with possibilities and openings in the field of Ag Econ and providing fellowship are the main purposes of the club.

Agricultural Economics Club members and faculty prepare barbecued hamburgers at annual fall round-up in Reaney Park.

Student-Faculty Spring Banquet Brings Back Alumni

For the student with interest in the fields of Engineering and Agriculture, the American Society of Agricultural Engineers is the right group. It is a professional society associated with both the College of Agriculture and the College of Engineering. This year activities for the group included regular meetings, speakers, and field trips.

Speakers Aid in Ag Education Methods

Alpha Tau Alpha is a collection of Agriculture-Education majors. Culminating various student interests into a professional society is the purpose of this organization. A game booth at the WSU County Fair, speakers, and meetings occupy the members. The crop of students thrashes over ideas of wide interest in their meetings.

Meeting at Rico's, nights on Puyallup's cement floors, and publishing the nation's best student Agronomy magazine are just a few activities of the WSU Agronomy Club. Meetings outside the classroom with staff, distinguished agronomists, and businessmen also fills the time of the club. Planting ideas through conversation, field trip studies and speakers add to the excitement of the club.

Tom Poole, Bill Tuttle, Rich Nilles, Merv Winkle, and John McLean inspect plants in an Agronomy laboratory.

AGRONOMY CLUB OFFICERS: Bob Arther, ASCA representative; Tom Poole, Treasurer; Bill Tuttle, Secretary; Clarence Manning, Vice President; Rich Nilles, ASCA representative; Robert Longtain, ASCA representative; John McLean, President.

Judging Sponsored in Portland and Columbus

An udderly fantastic WSU Dairy Club is led by President Norm Spragg and Advisor Dr. Hillers. Getting people together who are interested in the dairy field is the main purpose of the club. A student-faculty mixer, and dairy judging teams are major activities of the club.

Crimson Clover Sponsors IFYE Tea

Former 4-H members gather in Crimson Clover. They assist young people in 4-H now and hold meetings. The group also participated in a national farm exchange with farm students from other schools.

Gymkanas Sponsored at Stables

The Equestrian Club of WSU encourages and makes possible activities for students and horse-back events. Each year they attend rodeos and other riding events at schools in Montana and Idaho. Each spring one member is presented the "Horseman of the Year" award. President of the group was Bill Holleman and Dr. Richard Johnson was the advisor. Happy trails to you!

The Forestry and Range Management organization gets to the root of all problems. Students in both fields work together to promote solidarity. Heading a wide range of individuals are Ron Holtcamp as president and Arthur Noskovich as advisor.

Livestock Show Set Up

WSU chapter of FFA has as its purpose giving future agriculture teachers an insight for directing FFA in high school. The 45 member organization has as its president Jim Cockle and advisor Dr. Keith Fiscus. They sponsor a record book contest. In the spring they judge high school FFA's and award a rotating plaque.

Flower Children

Peggy Swartos, Heinz Humann, and Gloria Jones are with an unusual plant.

William B. Ackley pops a balloon on his chair.

The Horticulture Club is the apple of the eyes of Heinz Humann, president, and Dr. Charles Pfeiffer, advisor. Promoting a closer tie between horticulture students and instructors is the basic purpose of the Club. Ice skating in Spokane and the production of approximately 700 gallons of apple cider were the main functions within the club.

Twenty-five people did not have to be roped into the Lariat Club. It is a professional society affiliated with the College of Agriculture. Its main purpose is to support animal science judging teams financially. Activities include exhibiting for open house, supporting Angus sales, sponsoring a dance in the CUB, and having speakers. The organization affiliated last year with National Block and Bridle for exchange of ideas with other clubs.

Virgil stated that man should command large fields, but cultivate small ones. Mu Beta Beta, led by President John Augustine and Advisor Rita Sullivan, helped propagate this ideal. Their main focal interest lies in promotion of 4-H. This is an honorary society for outstanding students.

Home Economics majors aren't the only ones who feel at home on the range. The Range Management society studies practices of range management, economical use of land, and conservation of open range land. President Doug Eastwood and Advisor Dr. Grant Harris helped to give the trail boss-of-the-year award.

Fowl Research Done by Poultry Science

POULTRY SCIENCE: Boris Coto, Doug Bridgman, Leland Long, Leo Jensen, James Wedam, Richard Meyer.

The Poultry Science Club was organized within the College of Agriculture to promote interest in the field of Poultry Science. The members hear speakers and examine research methods and studies in the field. Activities of a less academic nature included hayrides, parties, and trips.

Poultry Science club members do study and research work in the laboratory.

Alpha Zeta Agricultural honorary offers recognition to outstanding students. Scholastic and leadership excellence are the determinates of members in this group. There is a joint banquet in the Spring with their Idaho counterparts. Meetings and initiation fill up the remainder of the time.

The organization of Future Veterinarians is an important asset to campus. Informing students in Pre-Veterinary Medicine about the profession and the school of Vet Medicine at WSU is the job of this organization. An annual picnic is held, meetings, and speakers fill the time for the students.

Improved Instruction Methods Studied

In the Science Department a number of faculty members have been recognized by professional societies for their outstanding contributions in their fields. Construction of a new building is a beginning in the progression of the arts. The building will be a cultural center for all endeavors in the interest of physical arts. Dance, theatre, music, painting, writing lecturers visited WSU throughout the year. Graduate school is also increasing at a rapid rate. Sciences and arts cover a wide spectrum from the atomic reactor, to the Marmes anthropological research, to the execution of a character in a drama.

AERho Sponsors Ionesco Plays

Checking talent was not just a summer day sport for boys. Alpha Epsilon Rho is an honorary professional fraternity for outstanding students in broadcasting. Majors and non-majors participated in expanding their education in radio-television. Tours, projects, speakers filled time for members. Three students attended a convention in Detroit. Three Ionesco plays were brought to campus for special money-raising projects by the group. Radio-TV day, annual banquet, and awards were also handled by the club.

Recognizing high scholarship and keeping up with the times was the aim of Alpha Phi Sigma. Three banquets and the university open house were the main projects of the organization. Speakers expressed interest on federal, state, and local Police Science. The final arrangements of becoming a national honor society was the year's goal.

"Sometimes we got ticket off!" So said the members of the Association for Computing Machinery. Students in data processing and other areas of computer work belonged to the club. Professional men, lectures, discussions, and speakers helped further the interests of the group. We are in the machine age and all systems are go!

That's just fine, Arts and nothing is just fine arts. Talent and dedication, paint on pants and clay in fingernails—that is fine arts, and the finest in the arts were members of Delta Phi Delta, the national fine arts honorary. A banquet, student art show, and an auction of student work were some of the activities of the group. Art for art's sake? Yes!

A debatable issue always went to Delta Sigma Rho—Tau Kappa Alpha. Highlights of the year in the debate honorary included a banquet and individual debates. The group also offered assistance to the Columbia Valley Tournament and the state Championship. Two debaters were sent to a National Debate to compete with the best debaters throughout the U.S.

Wide Range of Activities in Police Honorary

Shoot, I wish everyone could get the bang out of an honorary that Lambda Alpha Epsilon members got. This police science honorary has a pistol team, field trips, speakers at meetings and an initiation banquet. These students are outstanding in their field, probably aiming at a range site.

NCP Award Goes to Two Outstanding Actors

"Act your age," is never heard by the very versatile National Collegiate Players. The dramatic arts program is their scene, as well as the writing of drama. They also play at research and productions during the year. Their scholarships present a top billing to freshmen students in the drama field.

You can't join Mu Phi Epsilon for a song. Membership in this international professional music sorority is given to talented women who have contributed greatly to the music field. Christmas caroling, honored guests at meetings, fund raising, scholarship awards at a spring Patron's Tea and a convention are some of the many things which keep this group in tune.

We might well note Phi Mu Alpha, the national professional music fraternity. Brotherhood, loyalty, and the promotion of America's finest music fall into the interests of this group. They sponsor a get acquainted party, serve as ushers at music concerts, hold a banquet and feature local compositions. This group tunes in and turns on!

Pi Mu Epsilon Emphasizes Math Careers

Pi Mu Epsilon is a mathematics honorary for superior undergraduates in this area. This nationally affiliated chapter sponsored the math department's portion of the campus open house in the fall. Of the 45 members, some are also members of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi honoraries. At the first meeting, speakers emphasized the various careers in math.

Pre-dent and pre-med students united to form a staff called Pi Tau Iota. This organization enabled these students to acquaint themselves with the professional field. Annette Twitchell led the honorary through a curriculum involved in pre-professional and professional training through speakers, films, and discussions. Pi Tau Iota members are responsible for coordinating the open house for the Zoology department.

"It's greek to me," may be a phrase used in all seriousness in Sigma Kappa Phi, the foreign language honorary. Language circles at a faculty or member's home were places to speak a foreign tongue only. An initiation ceremony and banquet featured guest speaker, Dr. John B. Lord.

Theta Sigs Held Newspaper Workshop

Theta Sigma Phi promotes the field of communications for women showing outstanding talents both academically and in their major. They also have held joint meetings with their male counterpart, Sigma Delta Chi. Among their activities are a Matrix table banquet with Theta Sigs of the University of Idaho, a newspaper workshop, and the sponsorship of an all campus talent show for Parents' Weekend.

Research

Banding and Coloring Used in Study

Will the young geese on the Snake River be pink, yellow, or orange this spring? If they are, both they and their parents are part of a wildlife research program. The aim of the program is to study what is happening on the river as a series of dams change the nesting habitat of many Canada geese. Geese have always nested on the river islands. What happens when these islands are flooded? Continued research through collar-carrying adults and dye-marked goslings will tell if bank-nesting adults can produce as many successful broods as they did on protected islands. There is also a study of what alternates might keep up the Snake River goose production. This river is important to many waterfowl throughout the year. A large wintering population keeps many ducks and geese from migrating farther south. There they would congregate with other waterfowl, overpopulate the areas, and become destructive to agricultural crops. State and federal game officials need to know how slowing the river flow affects the waterfowl presently using this area, and how present use compares with past use. Wildlife biologists at WSU are studying these and other facets of waterfowl behavior and ecology. The studies may provide scientific answers for maintaining winter concentrations and spring breeding populations so that the call of the wild goose will forever be a part of this canyon life.

A mother leads her colored goslings down the Snake River.

Injected Eggs - Colored Goslings

The eggs are injected with a colored substance which marks the goslings so that they can be followed in their migratory habits.

Goslings are easily camouflaged among driftwood and rocks.

A goose begins flight off the Penawawa Goose Island.

Bands are used for tracing geese in their migration. The aluminum band on the goose's leg bears an officially recorded number which can be used after the bird has been shot.

The discovery of the earliest well-documented human skeletal remains yet found in the Western Hemisphere, fragments of a skull 11,000 to 13,000 years old, rocketed the WSU Department of Anthropology into national prominence. "Marmes Man," as the find has been dubbed, was the discovery of Roald Fryxell, geologist and Assistant Professor of Anthropology, and graduate students from WSU and the University of Idaho working under his direction during March and April, 1968.

The drama of the discovery was heightened by its occurrence within the projected pool of Lower Monumental Reservoir, scheduled for flooding in the winter of 1968-69. With only a few scant months remaining to salvage the scientific treasures of the site, one of the largest archaeological manhunts ever launched was begun by a highly-trained thirty-man team of specialists and archaeologists quickly organized under the leadership of Fryxell and Professor Richard D. Daugherty. Senator Warren G. Magnuson assisted in obtaining an emergency grant of $50,000 through the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the National Park Service, and the U.S. Geological Survey rushed an additional team of specialists to the site and offered its radio carbon dating facilities and other critical analyses. By the end of August, with funds almost exhausted, the WSU team had produced parts of two more human skulls, those of a second adult and six-year-old child, and a series of spectacular archaeological finds including stone tools and a bone needle. A renewed emergency grant of $70,000 followed, and Magnuson requested the Corps to determine whether the site could be saved by construction of a protective levee. Magnuson's leadership in the fight to save the site resulted in an unanimous approval by the United States Senate authorizing the Corps to do so, only to have the amendment killed by the Senate-House Conference Committee hours before Congress adjourned for the year. Not until a direct appeal was made to President Johnson by the Senator and by a massive barrage of telegrams and letters sent to the White House from citizens, academic leaders, and prominent scientists throughout the United States, was last-minute approval of the levee gained and a 1.5 million dollar construction program begun to protect the site in a few remaining weeks before it was to be flooded.

Remains - 11,000 to 13,000 Years Old

Over fifty fragments of human bone were gradually pasted together to form the Marmes I skull, examined by project director, Roald Fryxell. As the emergency excavations progressed at an increasing pace throughout the summer, two more finds of human skull resulted—the skull of a six-year-old child, compared with similar areas darkened on the surface of a modern child's skull. The skull of a second young adult, Marmes III, which, like Marmes I, was in its late teens or early twenties at the time of death. Dr. Henry Irwin carefully exposed the fragments of Marmes III.

With the human skeletal material of the first artifacts found at the site were the bones of an animal. Zoologist Carl E. Gustafson identified them as those of a giant elk, which had been killed and butchered at the site when people lived there 11,000 or more years ago.

Work at the site proceeded at a constant pace six and sometimes seven days a week in spite of summer temperatures, ranging upwards to 120 degrees or more.

Authorization of the protective levee at Marmes Rock Shelter was followed immediately by a groundbreaking ceremony. Included among the invited guests were: Dr. Meyer Rubin, U.S. Geological Survey; Dr. H. M. Wormington, President of the Society of American Archaeology; Brigadier General Elmer Yates, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers; Dr. G. Terrell, WSU President; Dr. Clifford Pautzke, Assistant Secretary of Interior; Roald Fryxell, Dr. T. Dale Stewart, Smithsonian Institute; Senator Warren G. Magnuson, Mr. Clarence Ohlke, National Science Foundation, and Richard Daugherty.

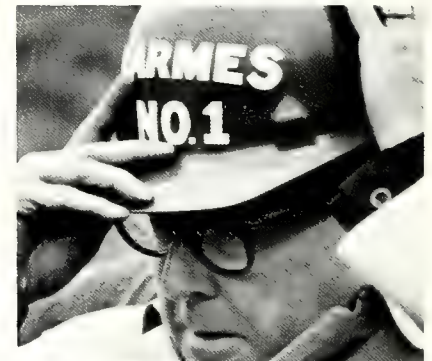

In the process, artifacts like the above spear-point made of basalt were found, both inside and outside the rock shelter.

As the public outcry to save the site mounted, General William F. Cassidy, center, Chief of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and his aides flew to the site from Washington, D.C. to confer with project directors on the feasibility of constructing a levee.

To reach the ancient layers containing the bones and tools sought between archaeologists, overburden was removed wherever possible with power equipment. Project archaeologist Bennie C. Keel and co-director Richard D. Daugherty supervised the equipment purchased especially for the project.

The Senator was presented with an official hard hat and an archaeologist's trowel in appreciation for his efforts in saving the site. He was also shown a display made for the project.

Needle and Bird's Claw Are Among the Remains

A delicate bone needle found at the site suggests that the people may have sewn tailored skin clothing.

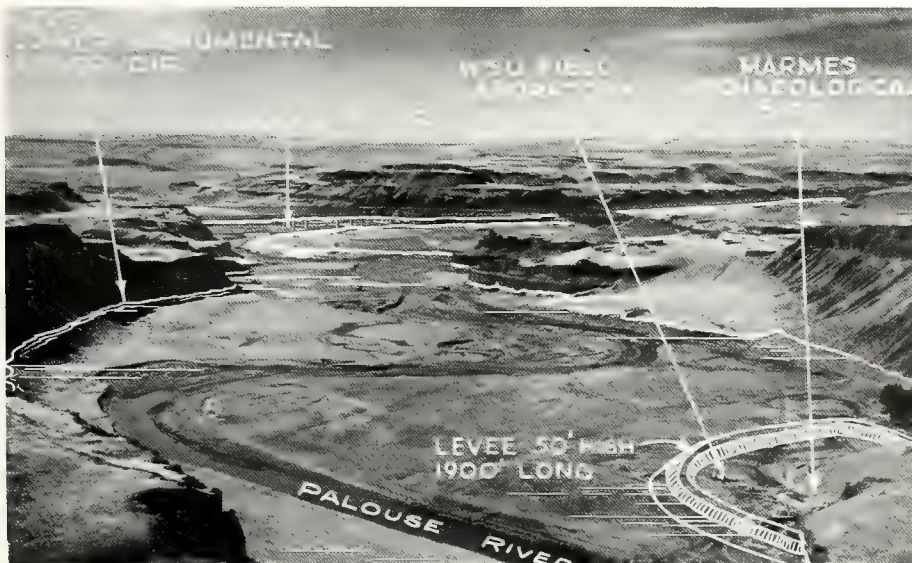

The claw of a bird, sandwiched between two flakes of stone, may have been worn and used for religious or ceremonial purposes.

National attention was again focused on the Marmes site at WSU when NBC news from New York featured an hour-long scientific documentary filmed on location. Professor Grover Krantz, physical anthropologist, exhibits the Marmes I skull.

Thirty-degree below temperatures resulted in ice jams and floods on the Palouse River as the protective levee rose.

An artist's concept of the way in which the levee was to protect Marmes Rock Shelter after filling the reservoir behind Lower Monumental Dam shows that fifty feet of water would have to cover the site in order to flood it. Seepage however did reach it.

An Attempt to Improve

The College of Economics and Business is concerned with structuring a comprehensive and practical-minded program for its students. This is done with the addition of new courses and updating the old ones. Research is also done by the staff. Studies on such topics as industry, accounting and other schools of economics supplement and enrich their program.

Business Honoraries Active

Minding everyone's business was not the purpose of a neighborhood snoop but a desirable trait in the versatile members of Alpha Kappa Psi. This national professional fraternity is for students majoring in business. Field trips, speakers at meetings, convention attendance, and a dinner dance fell into the interests of the members.

The College of Economics and Business gave recognition for scholarship to students in Beta Gamma Sigma. The upper four per cent of the junior class and ten per cent of the senior class were selected at the annual business meeting. A spring scholarship banquet and national bulletin kept members busy and up to date.

Behind every successful man is a woman, and the National Fraternity for Women in Business proved this does not pertain strictly to the home. The group met often for fun and to share group interests. The annual Christmas card and stationery sale, a banquet in May, and scholarship presentations filled their time.

Dean Brain is in a class by himself, as head of the College of Education. His jobs include the management of development and preparation of school administration, small school research, vocational-technical education, preparation and training of elementary teachers, introducing students to lab responsibilities with migrant students program, working for the State Coordinating Council, and working out new programs for teacher certification. These varied responsibilities all aid in helping to make education and teachers better in the future.

"Migrant Students' Program Extremely Successful."

Teaching women ideals of classroom creativity is the objective of Pi Lambda Theta. Mary Small, President, and Mrs. Carol Burgess, Advisor, showed their class with great leadership. This group expands education to ideals of social and democratic education on a national level. It has high ideals and an intense desire to create interest in professionalism. Activities included an initiation dinner for members, speakers, a $75 scholarship for a junior woman, and national affiliation.

The Physical Education Department offers such courses as water safety instruction.

The major fund raising project is the sale of refreshments at activities in Bohler Gym. Money made is presented to one student for a scholarship plaque. Money also procured speakers and sent students to conventions. This year conventioners were sent to Billings, Montana. Members were juniors up to, and including graduate students. One child was sent to Camp Easter Seal in the summer by this group. The twenty members also participate in the professional P.E. Association.

College of Engineering Has an Eye for the Future

The College of Engineering, headed by Dean John P. Spielman, has a wide variety of interests. Resident Service, the Technical Extension Service, and an extensive research division are the major departments of the College. Water pollution, urban traffic, waste removal, industrial expansion, and conservation are just some of the focal points of study. This is the College with a hand on the present and an eye for the future.

Julian Bond AIA Banquet Speaker

Bridging communication problems between engineering architects and the university students is the job of the AIA Engineers Society. Aspects of environmental design and building projects for application to real life are of first concern to AIA members. Headed by President Gene Powell and Advisor Robert Ford, the AIA is constructing shatterproof ideals.

This is the machine age, nothing can possibly go wrong, wrong, wrong.

Sponsoring company interviews on campus is just one of the interests of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Topics of interest to engineering students were presented by speakers. Meetings, project discussions, and a field trip filled up the rest of the time for these students.

Getting stoned holds literal meaning for the joint chapter of the American Society for Metals and the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers. Guest speakers at meetings kept the students abreast of the latest innovations in the fields of mining, metallurgy, and petroleum.

Remodeling Expands

Completing Phase I of remodeling facilities in College Hall for improved teaching and research in class and laboratory is one of the year's major interests in the College of Pharmacy. A reception and orientation through the Pharmacy Student Advisory Committee, scholarship awards, and a research fund of $200,000 per year from various grants keep Dean White very busy. The College is on the move toward improvements of life.

by the College of Vet Medicine

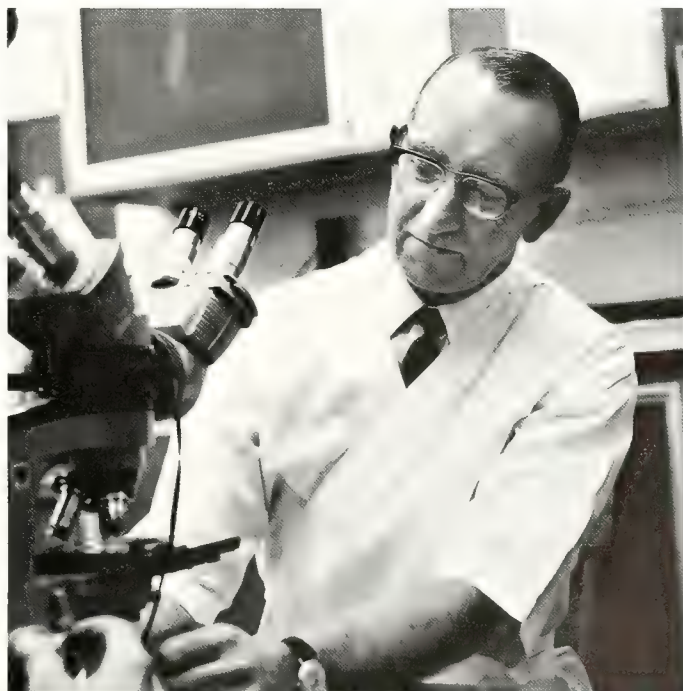

"Without health, life is not life; it is only a state of languor and suffering—an image of death." (Rabelais). The College of Veterinary Medicine, headed by Dean James Henderson, does its best to alleviate suffering of animals. Our College is one of three in the Western States and has a reputation of being among the finest. Diseases of animals are often analogous to diseases in man. This makes research of animal sciences vital.

Adam Clayton Powell, unseated Congressman from Harlem and highly controversial figure in United States politics, spoke to Washington State University students. Pro-Black power, anti-Establishment, Powell was as a dust particle in the eye corner. Noticed but creating agitation.

Francois Mitterand, leader of the French Federation of the Socialist Left, spoke of his strife for a United Europe. The importance of French nationalism was also stressed by Mitterand.

Frank Mankiewicz, Robert F. Kennedy's former press secretary, spoke as a highlight of Greek Week.

Art Fletcher, Republican, Assistant to the Secretary of Labor, strove to emphasize that "history will probably call today's youth the involved generation." He also spoke against crime and violence.

Professor Carl A. Schorske, rated as one of the ten great teachers of America, was sponsored by the English Department. His topic was "Intellectual History: Its Nature and Its Mission."

Urging new internationalism was the main topic of a speech by former CBS news correspondent, David Schoenbrun. He wished to emphasize that old political mistakes cannot continue. The first "atomic" generation can "end all life . . . or make it the greatest civilization in history."

Morris Udall spoke at the dedication of the new CUB. Overpopulation was his main point of interest.

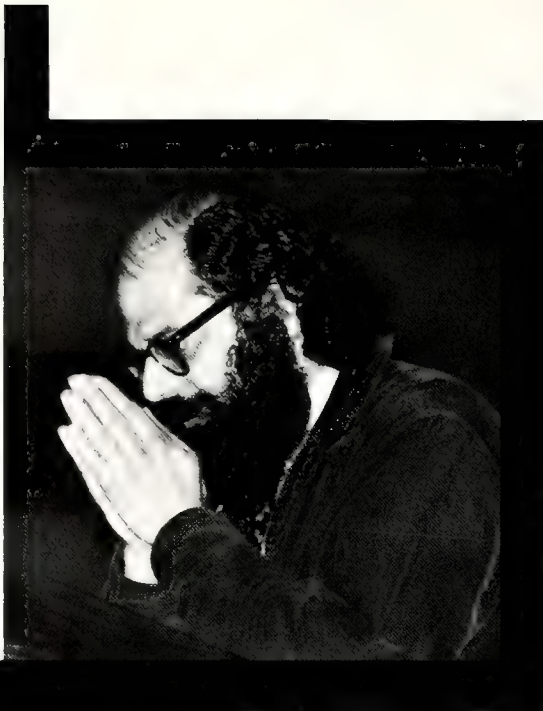

Tom Gunn, President of the Associated Students University of Washington, spoke to WSU students. "Tell it like you feel it," is where his speech was at.

Philip Abbot Luce, former communist party member, previous leader of the new left, and past officer of the progressive Labor movement spoke to a full crowd. Writer, and now a consultant for the House Committee on UnAmerican activities, Luce strives to encourage democracy.

Playboy executive Anson Mount spoke at a forum on campus. Sex and attitudes of the church was his main topic.

Mystical enchantment was created with the presence of the strange little man, Allen Ginsberg. A well known poet in the United States, Ginsberg's poetry expresses a deep inner self and outer awareness. Reactions were quite strong, for or against his style, because of its unusual ideas of presentation.

Secretary of Agriculture, Clifford Hardin, spoke to rural representatives from the entire Pacific Northwest. A range of rural problems was discussed in an attempt to create a deeper understanding of farming in the modern age.

Negro identification through their art was best displayed by John Biggers. The soul of the Negro, the history, the intense feelings, were expressed in the paintings he displayed at WSU. "Soul expression is returning to reality with the birth of self determination" and Biggers best exemplified this.

Choir and Band Perform Throughout State

The members of the WSU Concert Choir are chosen on the basis of voice quality and musicianship. The approximately 65 members performed at eight eastern Washington high schools during their annual spring tour. They also presented concerts on campus, including the annual Christmas Vespers program.

The director of the Symphonic Band is Randall Spicer. This superior group performed at home basketball games during the year. They also participated in Mothers' Weekend and Commencement Weekend. In February, they gave a concert on campus which included selections by Mozart, Wagner, and Sousa. There was also a statewide tour.

Bands Sound-Off at Outdoor Concert

The Concert Band presents a concert in the mall for everyone to hear.

Over 200 students take part in the band programs at WSU. These students are active in the Symphonic Band, the Concert Band, and the Marching Band and Basketball Pep Bands. The students make approximately 45 appearances during the school year including five concerts, a statewide concert tour, commencement, pep rallies, and athletic events. The bands are directed by Randall Spicer, John R. Knoll, and Drum Major William McCaw.

Art? Need it be any more than a gift of one man's self?

A climb up a dark stairway into what self-strange light?

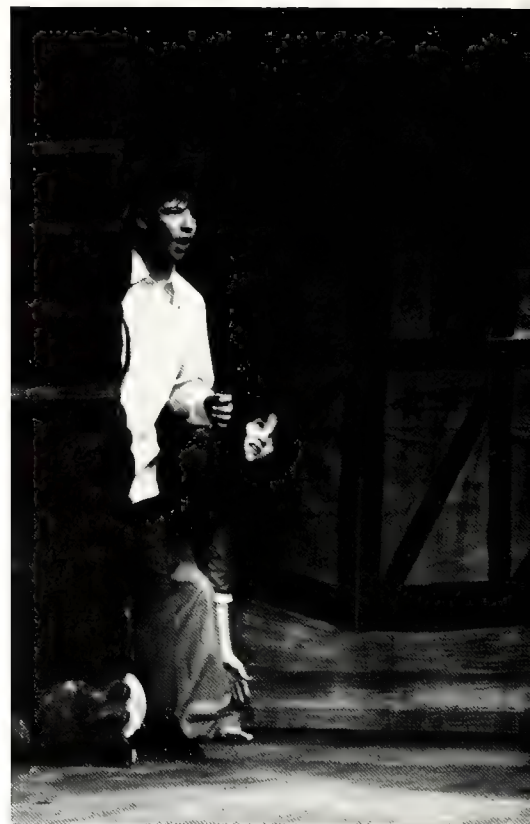

To remain calm, to remain whole, in a time of many separate conceptions is a very private art.

Leadership Is Not Born;

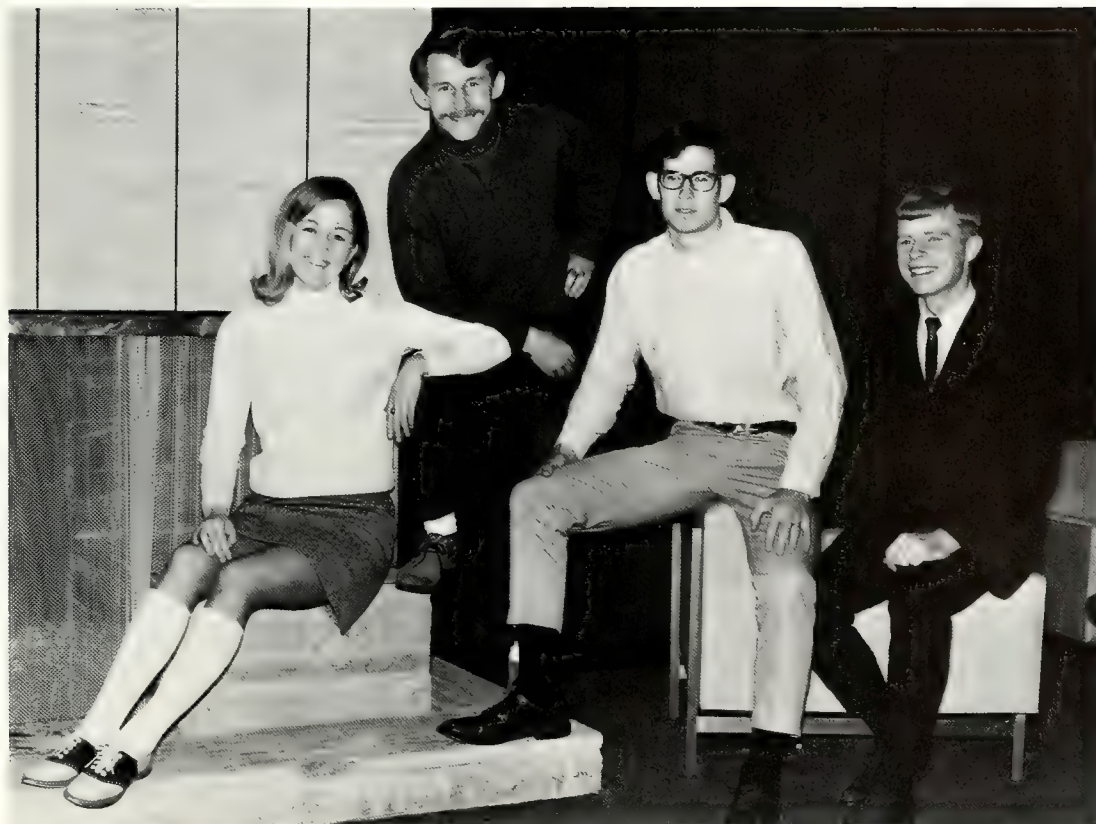

Interest in things being done and improvements to be made on BOC are of major concern to Ray Crabbs, ASWSU President. He has tried to increase active decision-making and student power on campus. Communicating with students for ideas, understanding their problems, and a continuous communication between students and faculty have been Ray's largest tasks.

No one is ever bored on the Board of Control. Members are kept busy trying to increase student communications, to increase the awareness of recreation facilities, and to study student housing. Several board members released a Housing Commission Survey for restructuring independent living groups. Discipline and control are exemplified by the Board.

All Shared for a Meal or a Song . . .

Food for thought was one of the main features of the Residence Hall Association. Expression on campus was promoted with RHA's sponsorship of a Peter, Paul, and Mary concert. The sound of music gave all students a chance to enjoy artists at work. The group was led by an active president, Rick Cole. RHA Week was the highlight of the year. The concert, Independent Man and Woman of the Year, and a dance were some activities of the group. Conferences, visitations, and coed living plans were other highlights of the year. Delegates to conventions exchanged ideas from other campuses. A scholarship was also offered for aid in room and board fees to a deserving independent. A good year of expression was for those living in the dorms, Thanks to RHA.

"Follow the Yellow Greek Road" Is Rush Theme

Greek senior women got an opportunity to use their experience to its highest capacity as the governing body of the houses. Formal and informal rush were supervised by the group. Barb Bumgardner, president, also helped supervise the workshop as well as discussions on leadership and unity. Intellectual and social interests of the women were aided by the organization.

Junior Pan Sponsors Pledge Luncheon

In the fall, Junior Panhellenic planned a breakfast for the pledge classes. Houses were paired up, and one pledge class kidnapped the other and served them breakfast. A luncheon for all the pledges was also planned. Over 300 girls and housemothers attended. In addition to a speaker and folksingers for entertainment, the trophy for the highest pledge class grades was awarded to Kappa Alpha Theta pledges. Members of Jr. Pan served as secretaries for the Sr. Pan Workshop. Jr. Pan is now working on fall rush. President for the 1968-69 year was Kathy Hadley.

Outstanding Men Honored

Crimson Circle's primary purpose is to recognize outstanding qualities in men of WSU and bring these people together with faculty and other students to work on problems of common concern. This nationally affiliated chapter with Omicron Delta Kappa held a discussion with Mortar Board and Professor John Szablya about his escape from Hungary after the Revolution in 1956.

Service with a smile. Sophomore Spurs show student spirit. Such projects as a Registration Ball, and a Halloween Party with the IK's and HEP students are some of the fun things they do. Hard work is involved in sponsoring an orphan overseas, ushering at games and concerts, the blood drive, and publicizing events. Spurs spread enthusiasm and interest throughout the university.

Men with places to go, things to do, and people to impress—these were the Intercollegiate Knights. Mums the word, because they sold them at Homecoming. Ushering at concerts, plays, and aiding campus visitors filled up the remainder of their spare time. A few moments remained, however, for a banquet, scholarship, and a national conference.

Job Corps Hosted by YWCA

This group of women keeps its collective finger in all pies with a wide variety of activities. They have held an International Gift Fair, in which they sold gifts from all over the world. A May breakfast was held during Parents' Weekend. Other areas of interest lie in tutoring, nursery school, campfire girls, Job Corps, public relations, and a new student camp. They have held meetings with speakers for these.

Service to Washington State University is a job done by the YMCA. It is responsible for publishing the Fusser's Guide and the freshman student photo album. The Popcorn Forums featuring many controversial speakers was their responsibility. A campus tutoring program was also of importance to this group.

Handsome Harry, Sweet Sue Sponsored by Service Honorary

Hey, service is fun in Alpha Phi Omega. Providing services to campus, community, Washington State University chapter, and the nation was the job of this national service fraternity. Handsome Harry and Sweet Sue were made possible by the group. They also worked on Camp Easter Seal, Camp Grizzley, and attended a convention in Seattle.

Sigma Tau Alpha Sells Candy

A service honorary for past members of Rainbow girls was provided by Sigma Tau Alpha. At Christmas, candy cane sales made money for the group. Visitations, scholarships, and meetings were of interest to the club.

Outstanding Freshmen Honored

Making the grade was the job of freshmen women in Alpha Lambda Delta. The honorary stressed the promotion of scholastic achievement. A national initiation in the fall helped to promote the group. They helped with registration and they heard Dean Warmer from San Diego State speak.

Freshmen with smarts? You bet! First semester freshmen with a 3.5 GPA or above and active on campus became members of Phi Eta Sigma. This nationally-affiliated honorary offered the uplift needed for these industrious freshmen. They held a banquet as one of their main functions.

Christmas Caroling Sponsored by Fellowship

Encouraging, assisting, and directing Christian students was the purpose of the Cougar Christian Fellowship. Spiritual growth was an individual and group effort. Weekly meetings on Saturday nights, dorm groups, fall and spring conferences, Christmas caroling, and leadership training were some of the varied activities. This national organization also hosted five speakers during the year. Halloween was a kick when 70 students loaded into a hay truck and had an old fashioned party. Modern issues were exciting for members to discuss from the religious point of view.

COUGAR CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP: Front Row: Paul Guenther, President; Jim Huntamer, Vice President - Boys. Second Row: Steve Mulford, Joan Griswald, Secretary; Nancy Wade, Vice President - Girls; Sylvia Barton, Sandy Ladd, Ken Vandenheuvel, Maisie VanDoren, Linda Zylstra, Clay Throop, Burnell Heggeness. Back Row: Bill Maebori, Jim Englund, Advisor; Brad Crumpler, Dave Morrell, Ken Drecksell, Andreas Sukati. Not Pictured: Tedd Cadd, Treasurer.

The Christian Science Organization met for 45 minutes once a week. At their meetings, readings and testimonies were offered. In the spring, the group sponsored a lecture on Christian Science open to all students and faculty at WSU. Martin Healer from Texas was this year's speaker. He spoke on "Thinking for Yourself." The group helped further the religions significance on campus.

LDS Maintains "Livewire" Agenda

Singers at International Night were Karen Muller, Robert Smiley, and Marianne Smiley.

Members of the LDS Students Association had a varied and interesting year. They attended classes where the Old and New Testaments were studied, as well as the Book of Mormon. In addition to studies, they held a number of parties and outings during the year.

The Primary Group waits to sing at a banquet.

Members of LDS hold noon meetings for study.

Cultural Exchange was stressed by the Indian Students Association. Indian music and films were part of their activities. Soccer was also important to the students.

“Getting to know you,” may well have been the theme song of the Pakistanian Students. Social hours were weekly sponsored in the International Lounge. Food, music and dances were also featured.

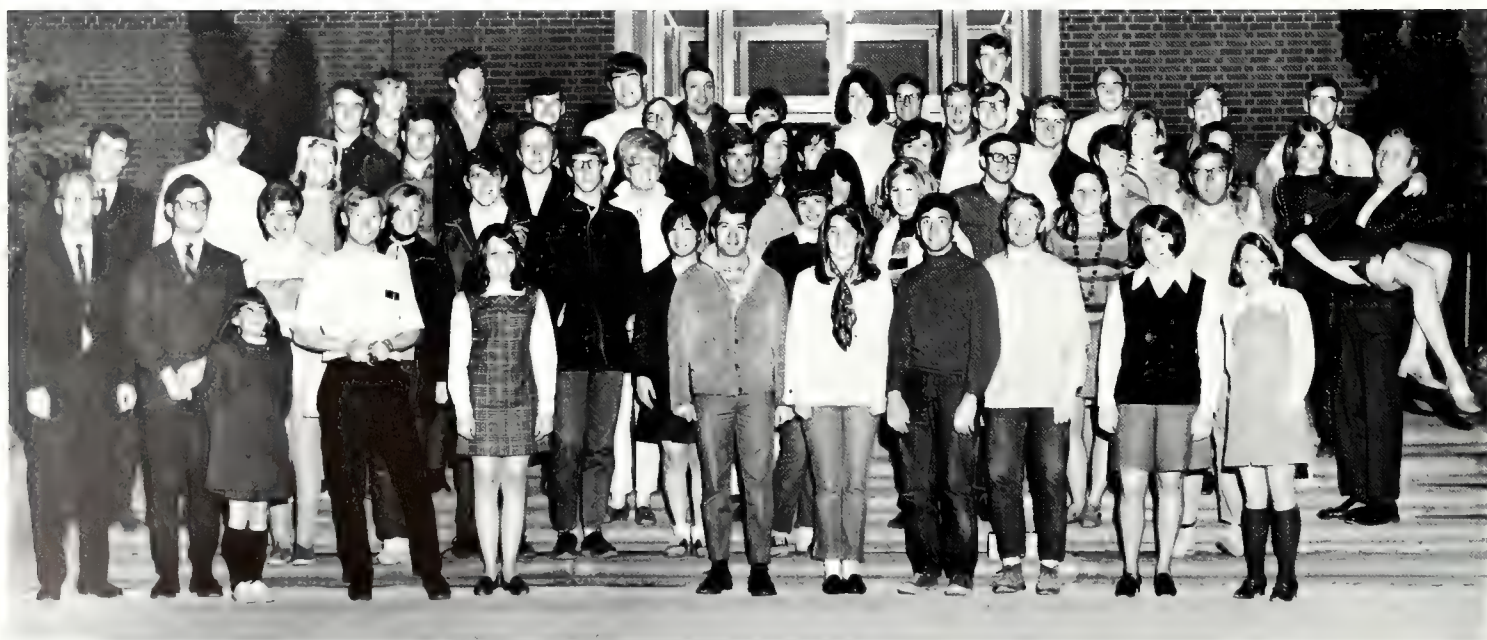

PAKISTAN STUDENT'S ASSOCIATION: M. Iqbal Khan, Shafqat R. Qureshi, M. Zubair Siddiqi, Mohammad Ramzan, Saeed Mustafa, Vice President; M. Ikram Sheikh, Muhammad S. Ali, President and Cashier; M. Avaz, Secretary; Muhammad Aslam, Mazoor Ahmed, M. A. Toor, Abdul Hameed, Muhammad Sharif, Akhtar Zaman.

Spring Activities for Outing Club

Outing Club members prepare to start their journey down the Clearwater River.

The Outing Club finished off ski season just in time to float along those melted snows. The Clearwater river was the scene of action. The club started their excursion at Lenore and went for 18 miles. Beer and food often made them stop for breaks. Sun and water were all in a day with rarely a tipped over boat!

"They're so out they're in" was an appropriate line for the Alpine Club. Finding a mountain was no small feat for these members; but they hit the road and did find places to go, hills to climb and feet to blister!

Nurse a wound? These girls will aid if there is need. They are members of the newly organized nursing honorary, Rho Nu. Members met to discuss and show problems in their field. They also met with eastern chapters.

SPORTS

Athletic Council Shapes Future of Cougar Athletics

Stan Bates
Athletic Director

In a year that began with burgeoning spirit and a new football coach, the WSU athletic program continued an outstanding tradition of sportsmanship, enthusiasm, and skill in all sports. The Athletic Council functioned actively as the governing body for Cougar sports. The Council, consisting of three alumni, three faculty members, and three students, acted in an advisory capacity to Director of Intercollegiate Athletics Stan Bates and to President Terrell.

Grey W Presents Laurie J. Niemi Award

The WSU Lettermen's club, the Grey W, presented the first annual Laurie Niemi Memorial Award to senior linebacker Steve Bartelle. The club presented him with a watch and engraved plaque. Laurie Niemi, Cougar All-American tackle, then assistant football coach at Washington State, died last year of cancer. He was one of WSU's all-time great football players. This award will be presented annually to the player who best exemplifies the Cougar spirit, and humility of Laurie Niemi. To make money for their club, the Grey W sold programs to the football fans. They kept up their tradition of contributing $250 to the Cougar Club. Also on their list of activities was the presentation of the trophy to the most outstanding alum picked by the sportswriters at the annual Spring varsity-alumni football game.

Steve Bartelle, outstanding linebacker for the Cougars receives the Laurie J. Niemi memorial Award from Coach Jim Sweeney.

Cougarettes Highlight Football Halftime.

Cougarettes perform can-can routine for the enjoyment of home-coming crowd.

Pretty legs and sparkling smiles make Cougarettes one of the most watched ASWSU Committees. School spirit was exhibited by the drill team which showed pep during all rallies and in football and basketball half-times. Feet sinking in a football field and cold legs are nothing new to them. Smiles remain and enthusiasm is never rained out.

Cougarettes march with the band during football halftime.

Yell Squad Sparks Spirit

WSU's 1968-'69 Yell Squad had quite a busy year supporting the school's many athletic events. Besides attending all games and meets, the 12-member squad arose at 7 a.m. to see the teams off, sponsored two dances, and made several television appearances with alums. Spreading school spirit was one thing, but laughter and fun also prevailed among the squad.

Intramural wrestlers fight hard to win.

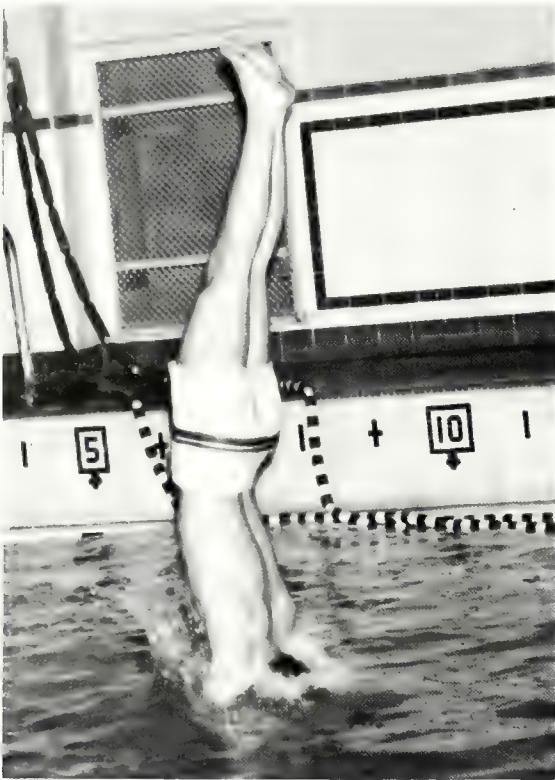

Intramural football players await the snap of the ball on muddy practice field.

Increased interest in intramurals made 1968-69 a good year at WSU. Flag Football ended a season with few injuries. Participation increased by 13 per cent, far more than injuries. New fields will be used next year. Up to 22 games a night were played. Wrestling had a good season with a marked increase in participation. The new CUB facilities provided the re-addition of table tennis, billiards, and bowling. Badminton improved with a 50 per cent increase in participants. Skiing also improved due to a particularly good season. The new courts in the physical education building will handle the large increase in basketball action. Softball, track, decathlon, golf, weight lifting, volleyball, water polo, and swimming also aided students striving for physical fitness.

Four arms reach up for a pass during hard-fought intramural football games.

Intramural Sports Provide Fun and Swimming, a growing intramural sport, combines fun and competition.

Intramural basketball dominates the winter sports action in Bohler Gym.

An entry in the all-campus Intramural Track and Field Day shows his form in the shot.

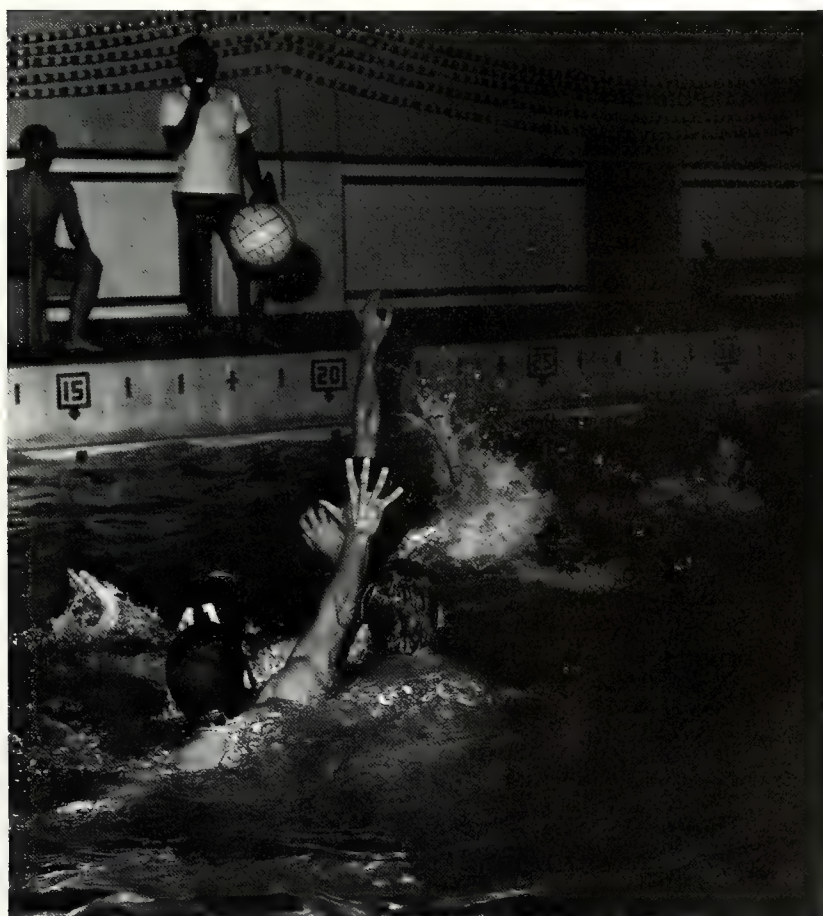

Water polo provides a different type of challenge for the water enthusiast.

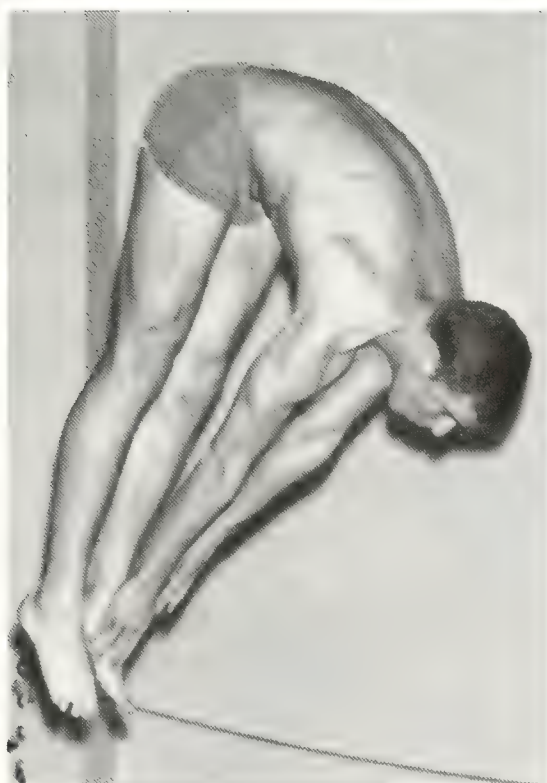

Games for All Living Groups

Intramural football prevails over the campus athletic fields throughout the fall.

Intramural water polo action is fast and wet.

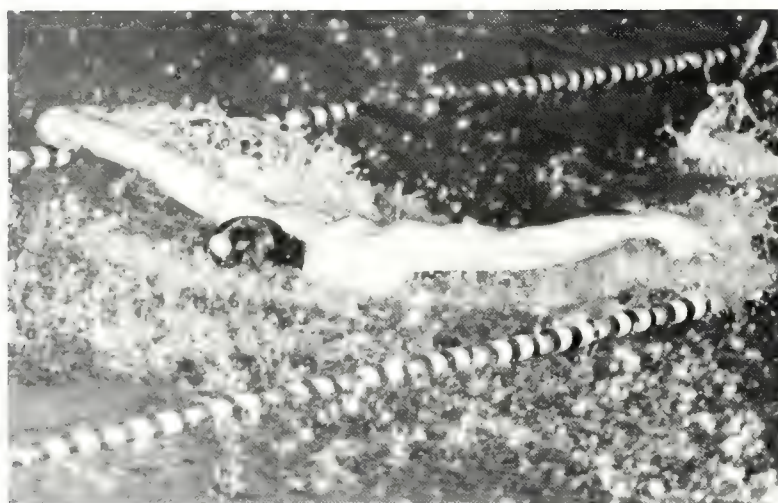

An intramural diver displays an excellent "jack-knife" style.

All University Points Total: SAE 1st

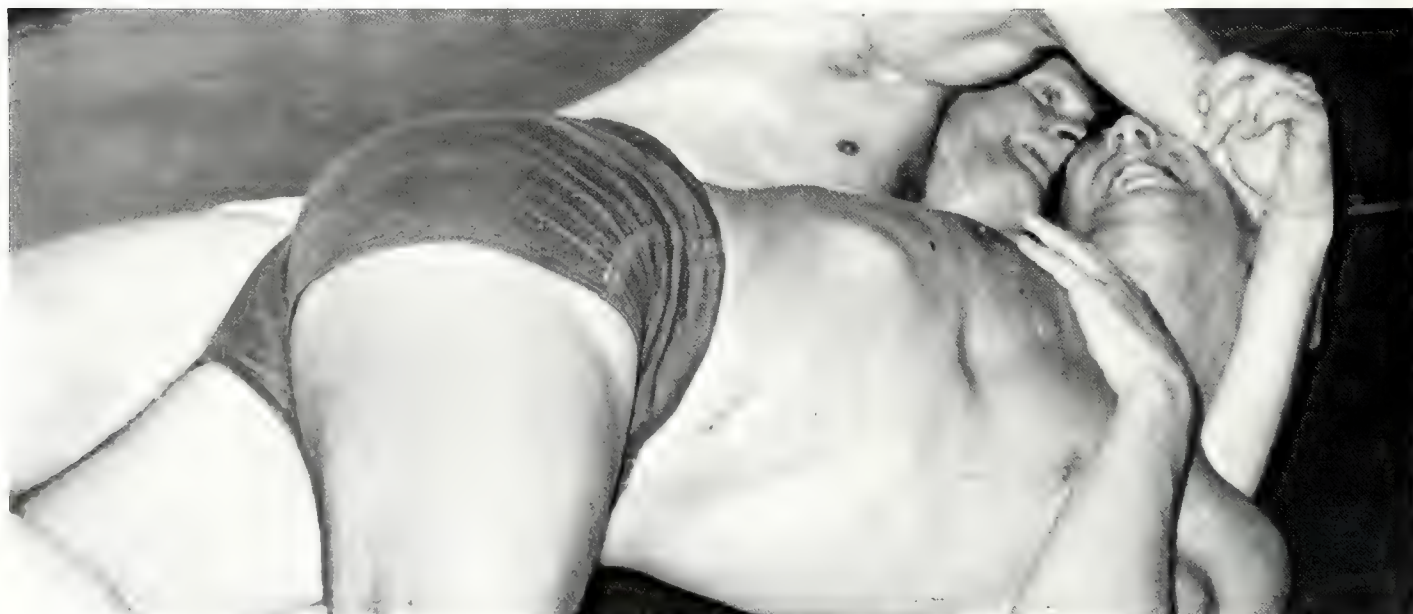

SAE finishes ahead of Delta Upsilon in this relay event.

Intramural swimming championship in the breast stroke is seen here.

Basketball—always a popular intramural sport in the winter.

Intramural wrestlers fight hard for a pin.

A discus thrower shows his form in the intramural track and field events.

Fast-pitch softball was a popular evening sport.

Judo Club Meets to Further Fascinating Sport

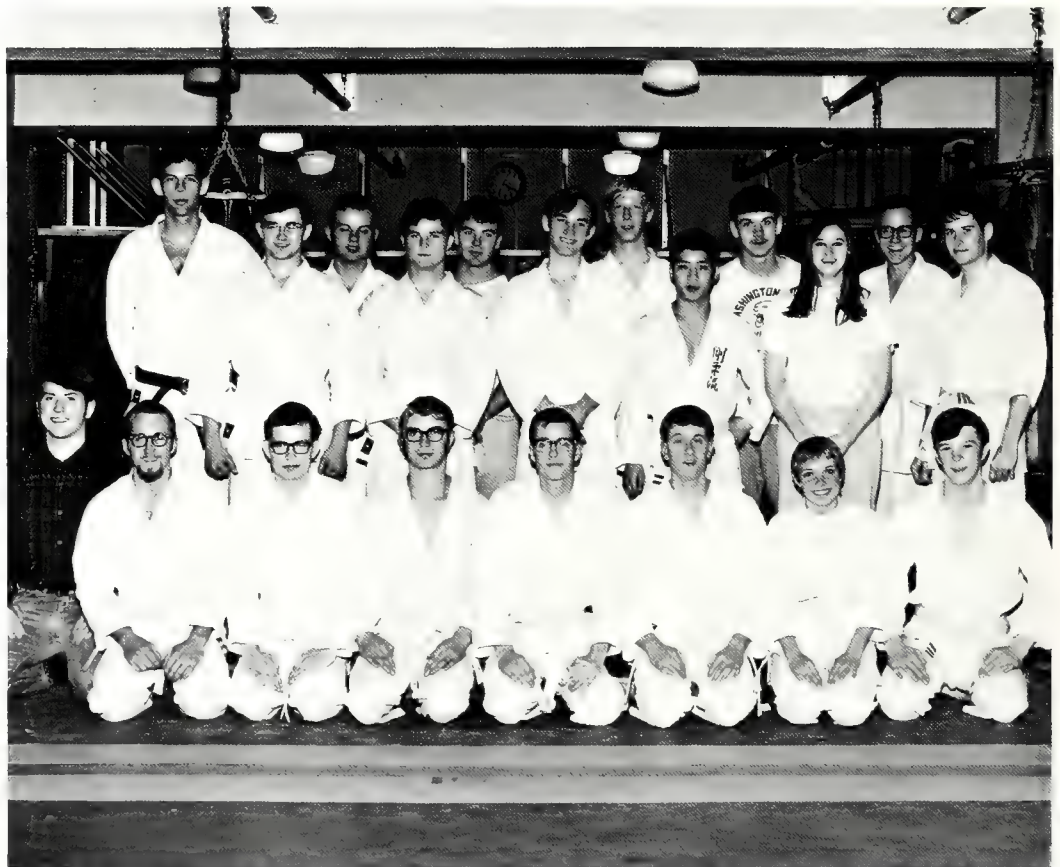

Jici Jitsu, transformed evolved into Judo, and WSU made a Club of it. Furthering Judo as a sport is the purpose of the club. Meetings are held three times a week, and members compete with one another. Tournaments gave this new club extra chances for practice.

JUDO CLUB: Paul Chance, Dan Snider, Carl Gentry, John Sobolewski, Arlene Weber, Sharon Fievez, Nora Templin, Phil Peistrup, Len Johnson, Jim Burney.

Coordination, Reflexes, Good Health; Karate Club Goals

The WSU Karate Club hosted the Northwest's first All-College Karate Tournament with four selected colleges competing. The Club looks forward to participating in several of the larger tournaments and bringing a Japanese instructor from Japan in the coming year. Under the leadership of Ernest Brennecke, Northwest Black Belt Champion, the Club's forty members have sought to learn more about the art of Goju Karate. Realizing the need for character, sincerity, and self control, the club has trained twice weekly to condition reflexes, coordination, and body health.

The word is activity for a Club which builds mind, body, and social life. The 32-member Rugby Club is now an Associate member of the Northwest Collegiate Rugby Association. Because of his activities and participation in the club, John Boyce was awarded the Peter Brockway Memorial Trophy at the end of the season.

Bowling Club Represents WSU throughout Northwest

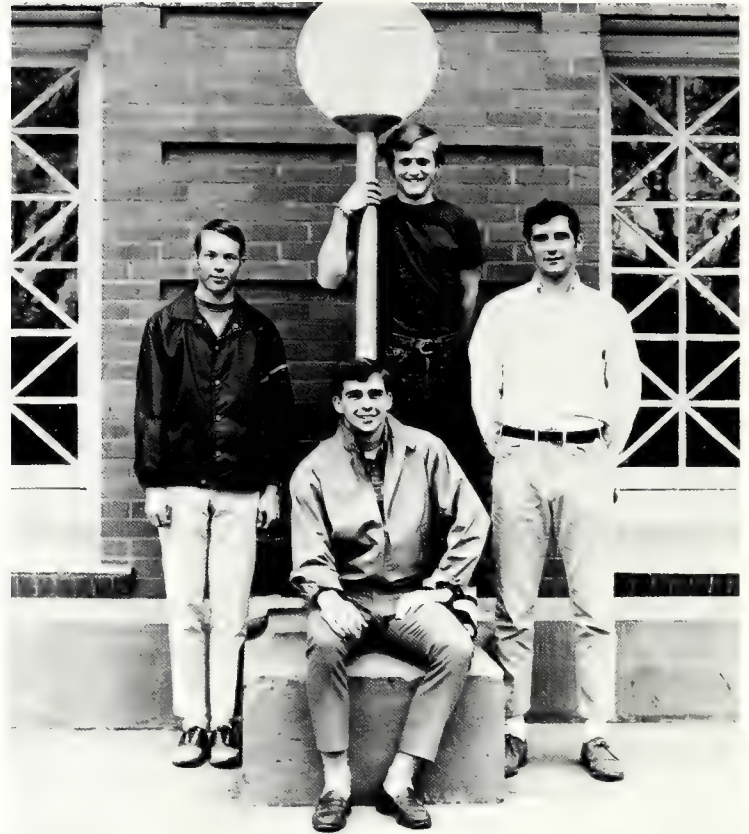

Right up our alley was the WSU Bowling Club. Each team had 12 members. The activities center in the CUB sponsored the club. The team represented WSU in tournaments and 14 regional game tournaments. WSU, Idaho, Gonzaga, and SCC are members of one league.

The Wonderful World of

Skiing in competition for WSU was the Washington State University Ski Team. In the Northwest Collegiate Ski Conference, they placed well. Crystal Mountain and Anthony Lakes were the sites of their ski drills. Jumping, cross-country, giant slalom, and the downhill were the main divisions of the team.

SKI TEAM: Rod Kippen, Coach; Jim Hahner, Bob Lucas, Arne Thorger-son. Not Pictured: Dr. Arthur Coffin, Advisor.

The WSU Boxing Team won four out of five matches this year and received the team trophy at Walla Walla Junior College. Greg Bemis, 179 lbs., won the outstanding boxer award. The team trophy was again won at the match with the Tri-City Boxing Club at Pasco; this time with 155 lb. Steve Tidrick winning the outstanding boxer award. Bemis was top man this year with a no-loss, no-draw record. Blake Roseberry, 165 lbs., had four wins and one draw.

Hans Habereder moves up to kick another goal. Hans was second leading scorer for WSU Soccer team this season.

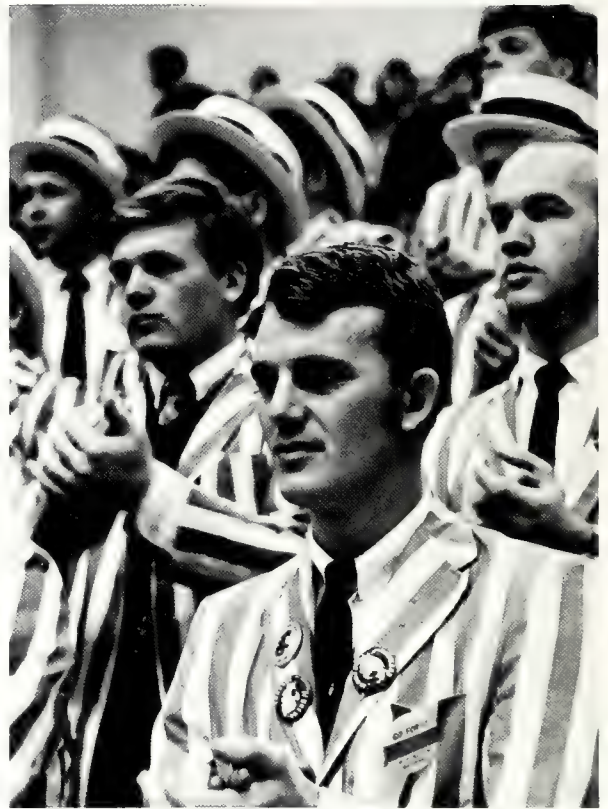

The Soccer Club of WSU had a ball hosting the second Intercollegiate Soccer Tournament. They placed third in the competition. The 35 members also promoted a pumpkin sale on Halloween for a fund-raising project, as well as holding a local soccer tourney. Planning a "Miss Soccer—1969" beauty contest was one of the most enjoyable activities of the Club. The Club has an international flair, not only because of the varied nationalities of its members but because it is a well known game all over the world. Highlight of the year was the Club's winning of the trophy for being Northwest Intercollegiate Soccer Champs.

Butchmen - Fun and Games

Do they use Crest? No, their ready smiles are part of the spirit and spirits they share with all of WSU at game time. Red and white jackets, straw hats, and clever phrases make the Butchmen the smoothest spirit group on campus. Football and basketball games, campus rallies, posters, and a dance highlight a few of their varied activities. This year they are officially an ASWSU Committee.

Butchmen yell leaders Dave Cardwell and Read Smith anticipate another Cougar touchdown.

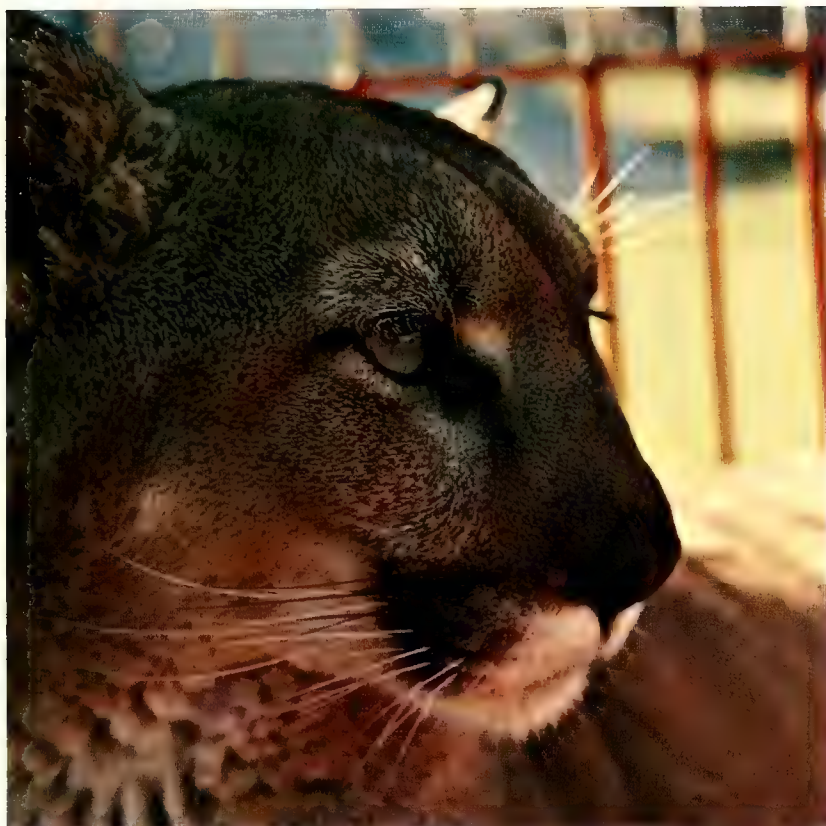

Butchmen spark enthusiasm and laughter with their yells and wit at Cougar basketball games.

Butch - Spirit and Tradition

Butch, WSU's Cougar mascot is an important part of the WSU spirit and tradition. Our present Butch VI was presented as a gift from former Governor Rosellini in 1964. The first Cougar was a gift of the then Governor Hatley. The pet was named after Butch Meeker, WSU's great football star of the 1920's. After the death of Butch I in 1938, Governor Martin presented Butch II. Later WSU received two cougar kittens; one died and the other became Butch IV. When Butch IV died in 1955, Governor Langlie gave WSU its fifth Cougar mascot. Butch VI now lives in a cage between Rogers Field and the tennis courts. Shorty Severs is the athletic fields and grounds keeper. During the day he resides in his landmark equipment shack near Butch's cage. Veterinary school students feed Butch an average diet of ten pounds of horse meat a day.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Cougars posted a 3-6-1 season this year under the leadership of an enthusiastic new football coach, Jim Sweeney. The Cougar team set a new single season record with 321 pass attempts—resulting in 166 completions. The 32 pass completions of 49 attempts against Oregon set a new record for a single game. Individual performances showed Jerry Henderson on top with 11 records. He was the all-time passing leader with 299 completions in 564 attempts resulting in 3,411 yards. With 45 kickoffs, Mark Williams broke the season return record. He missed the season punt return yardage record by two yards—333 against a 1948 record of 335. Rick Reed also set a new record by picking off 8 interceptions. Hank Grenda's quarterbacking led WSU to a 24-0 victory over the University of Washington Huskies. Grenda tied the all-time single season record by punting 68 times this past season. All 18 graduating seniors will be missed, but Sweeney is already out recruiting future Cougar greats from around the Pacific Northwest. A lot of pressure rested on Coach Sweeney's shoulders. A one-year contract doesn't give a coach a lot of confidence. Sweeney took it all in stride and did a tremendous job. His yells, spirit, and enthusiasm were passed on to all Cougar fans everywhere, including the alumni. They were well rewarded with wins over Idaho, San Jose, and a final game score of 24-0 over our cross-state rival, the University of Washington Huskies.

Frosh Gridders Have Promising Future in Coug Football

WSU Coubabes posted a 2-2 season this year. They began by learning the fundamentals that head coach Jim Sweeney stressed for the varsity. Head frosh coach Pinky Erickson, a veteran football coach, and an extremely effective recruiter, proved an able assistant to Sweeney in guiding the frosh team. Some of the outstanding talent this year included Chuck Hawthorne, a very adept quarterback, and Tom McClain, an excellent punter. The frosh team is preparing itself for the future years at WSU. The coaches have a great deal of faith in their future.

Cougs Second in Conference

Going to court doesn't always involve a law suit. Sometimes it's a basketball court, and the suit is a tee-shirt and shorts. Placing second in the Pacific-8 Conference, WSU's basketball team is really on the ball. A season of eleven wins, three losses gave Cougar fans a lot of bounce. WSU beat five of the seven conference teams, splitting with California and losing twice to the UCLA Bruins. WSU twice defeated USC, the only team to beat UCLA. On defense, the Cougars held their opponents to 68 points a game. Ted Wierman, named to the Pacific-8 All-Conference Team was fifth in the league in points per game. He was also named to the UPI All-Coast Conference. We fans have a ball watching our WSU team make those shots.

Getting into the swim of things may be taken literally by the WSU swim team. Two swimmers qualified for the nationals. Making large waves on the pool scene was freshman Brad Storey, the most outstanding prospect ever for WSU. Dan Yeilding also stroked his way into the National League. Four seniors were lost to water functions in 1968. The freshman record in meets was 8 wins 3 losses (one to the varsity). The new gym in WSU hosts a new pool which will boost morale for participants in meets. "You're all wet" is a good sign for the active WSU swimmers.

CROSS COUNTRY

The powerful 1968-69 Cougar Cross Country team finished the season with a 5 win, 1 loss dual meet record. The Cougar harriers also won two invitational meets. WSU's only loss came at the hands of Whitworth College in the season opener. The Cougars were led this year by their captain Larry Almberg, Rick Riley and sophomore distance runner from South America, Graham Raubenheimer. In a dual meet with Arizona towards the end of season, Larry Almberg set a new record for Arizona course. He ran the four mile circuit in 19:43.3. Riley paced the Cougs as they ran past Idaho and Utah. The freshmen cross country team finished the year undefeated. They were led by Bob Yshas, Graham Hutchinson, Ken Likkel, Rick Woods, and Dan Luby.

Larry Almberg Sets PAC-8 Record

Larry Almberg sets a new school record in the 3000 meter steeplechase with 8:51.6.

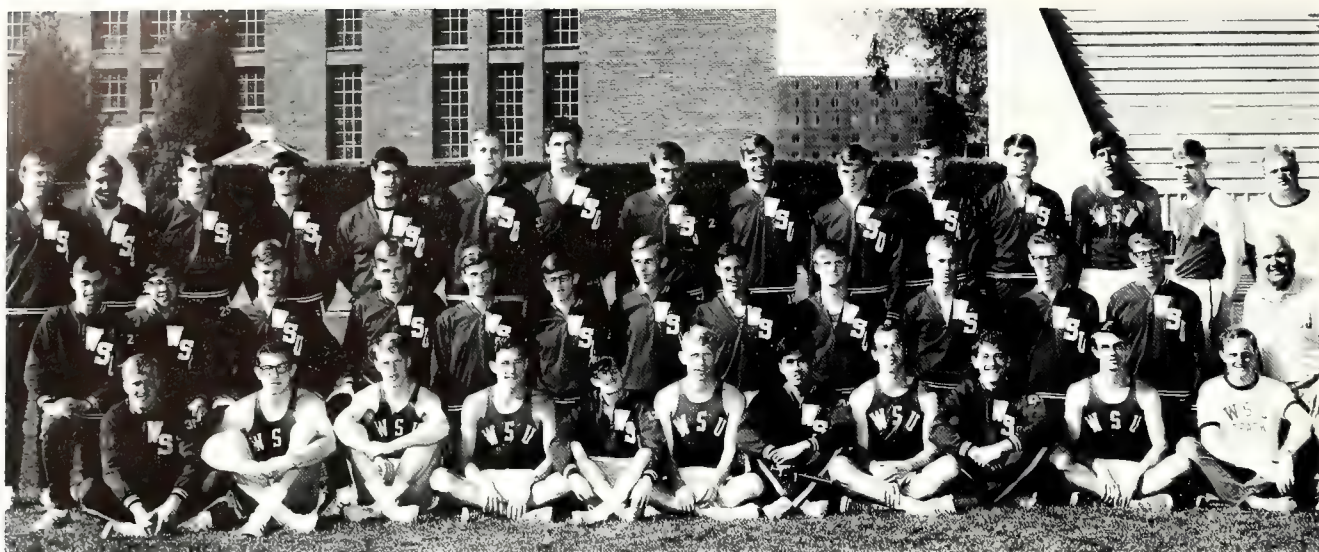

Art Sandison and Rich Fox stay close together as they go down the stretch in the 880 yard run.

WSU's much improved track team started the '69 season by winning its own indoor and outdoor invitational meets. The Cougs also won the Banana Belt relays during the early spring. PAC-8 competition found the Cougs finishing with a 3-2 record. They triumphed over Stanford and Oregon for the second consecutive year. They also beat the Washington Huskies 115-39. The Cougs took 17 of 18 first place marks. Six meet records were also broken. The only losses for the cindermen were to OSU and USC. The loss to USC could have been a tie had the Cougs been able to take the last event. Next came the Northern Divisionals where they took a strong second. After Divisionals, the Cougs finished third behind the Bruins and Oregon in the PAC-8 championships. At the NCAA track finals in Knoxville, Tenn., the Cougars battled to a tie for third place. Giant John Van Reenen took the lone Cougar first with a record-shattering toss of 200'8" in the discus. Second places went to Art Sandison in the 880 and Rick Riley in the six mile. Tony Tenisci took third in the hammer throw; Jim Voss, fourth in the high jump; Boyd Gittins, fifth in the 440 hurdles; and the 440 relay quartet finished sixth.

Jack Ernst displays an approach that yields him a pole vault of 16 feet.

JUNIOR VARSITY TRACK

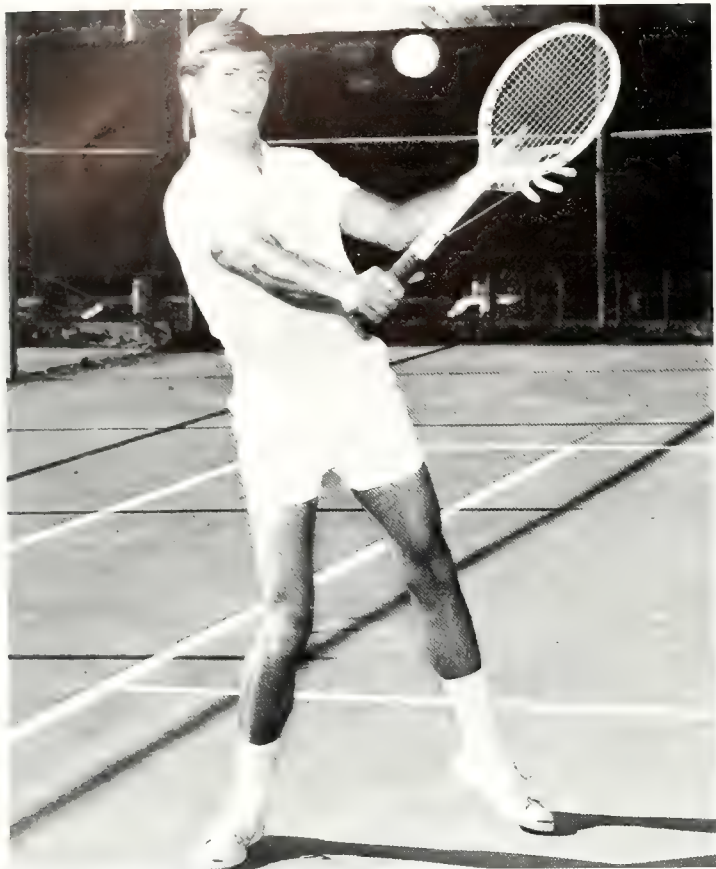

Bruce Cardwell rounds the turn and sprints toward the finish line in the junior varsity WSU Indoor Invitational.

WSU's 1969 junior-varsity track team had great talent to add to the Cougar Varsity in 1970. Dave Fox from Wapato set a new indoor record in the 600 yard run with a 1:13. Frosh Ken Likkel from Lynnwood captured the 1000 yard run in the indoor meet with a time of 2:14.9. Also, Tony Tenisci, a freshman from British Columbia will perhaps be one of the finest hammer throwers from WSU. Other strength that the junior varsity may be able to provide the varsity next year will be Steve Pearson in the hurdles and Colin Young tossing the javelin. The junior varsity did well in all the meets in which they performed, winning all three. They beat all opposing junior varsity and frosh teams in the WSU Invitational and also trounced Ricks College and Blue Mountain Community College. To finish a top season, they beat Yakima Valley, Wenatchee Valley, and Columbia College Community Colleges at Yakima. Coach John Cheplin felt the team had a good season and looked to better things next spring by bringing more promising young trackmen to Cougarville.

Rik Williams prepares to receive an opponent's serve.

This year's tennis team, lacking depth of players turned in a not-too-bad 4-8 season. This year's coach Rex Davis, who also doubles as the gymnastics coach will be able to devote more of his time to tennis next year. Tennis is a sport that should be practiced the year round and with Coach Davis relinquishing his gymnastics duties, he will be able to devote his full time to tennis. The top six players on this year's varsity team, in the order that they play, were: Rik Williams, Tom Wilson, Bruce Allen, Steve Peck, Mike Johnson, and Ken Sahr. Steve Docherty, Australian standout will be a tremendous help to the varsity next season. Rated as one of the top frosh players in the PAC-8, he could be the beginning of better things to come in Cougar Tennis. A more active recruiting program of state high schools and Junior Colleges with more scholarship assistance from the Athletic Department will help round out our tennis team. With the new gymnasium ready next year, an inside roll out court will be available for tennis players as Pullman weather hinders tennis play.

Bruce Allen and Rik Williams, Cougar doubles players, are right there ready to hit the ball.

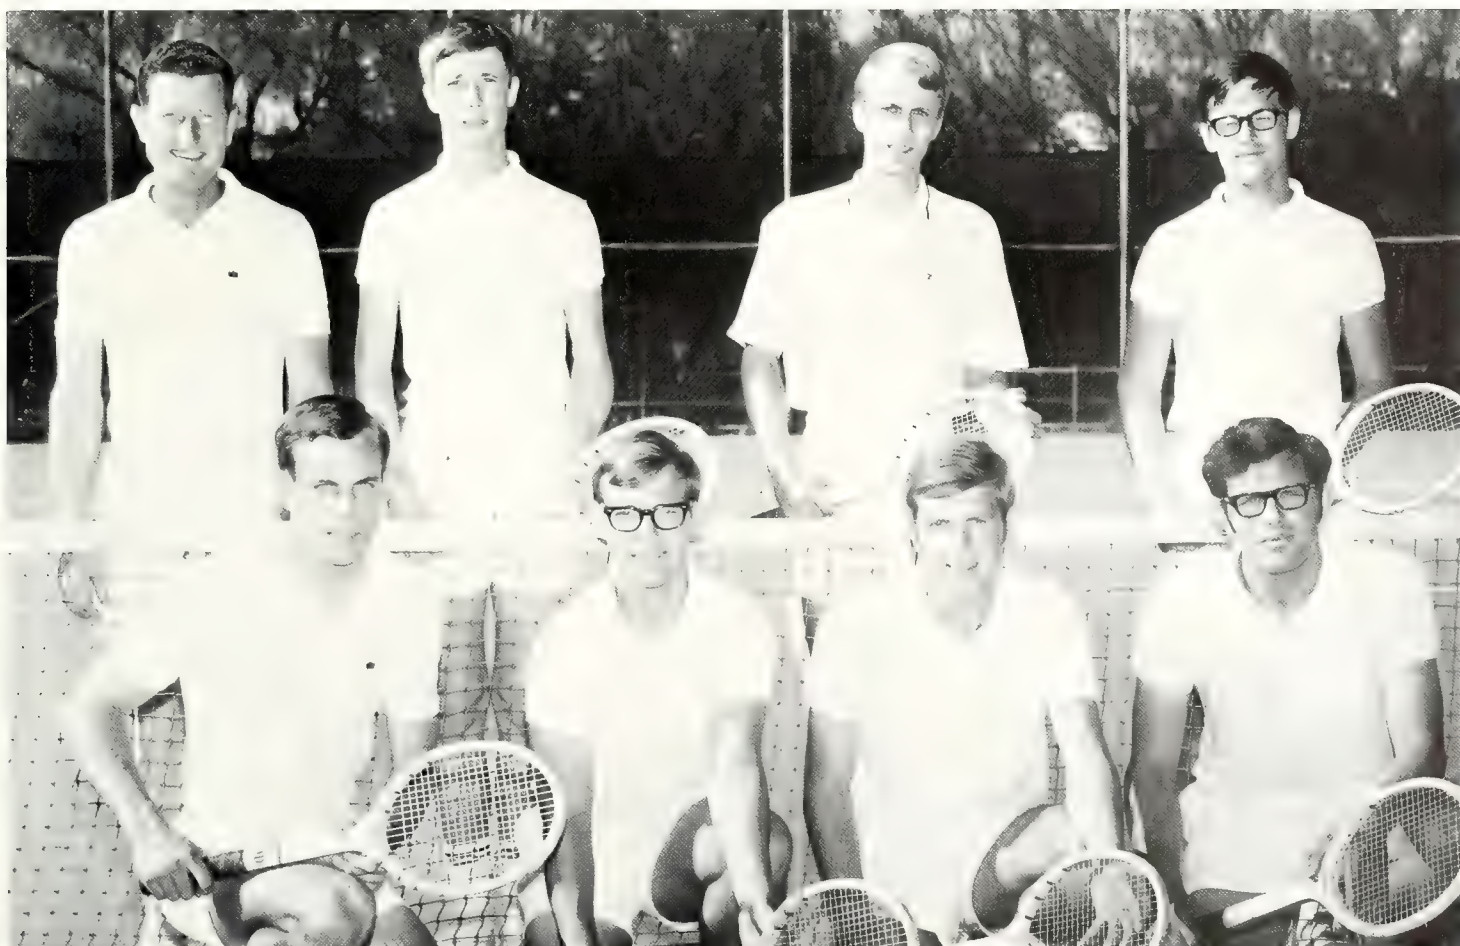

Frosh Star - Steve Docherty

New South Wales, Australia freshman Steve Docherty posted a perfect 6-0 season for the frosh this year.

Bob Waits, Cougar center fielder, makes it back to first base in the game against Stanford. Waits stole 13 bases in PAC-8 games this season.

Diamond 'feeture' sacking out!

A game, is a game, is a game—unless its baseball! The cougar team wound up in sixth place in the Pacific-8. The season record was eight wins, thirteen losses. Idaho, the last game of the season, lost to the Cougs seven to one. The game was a benefit for the Shriner's Crippled Children's Fund. Highlights of the season were the Banana Belt, the Hawaii tournament win, and the series wins from Cal., USC, and the Huskies. Senior team members who made a hit were Steve Dickerson, Dave Harshman, Bob Williams, Norm Angelini, and Larry Book. Cougs stole 72 bases in 42 games.

Baseball: Another Sports

First baseman and team captain, Steve Dickerson, rounds second base for a double against the USC Trojans.

Fish Fans Attend Aquatic Arts Festival

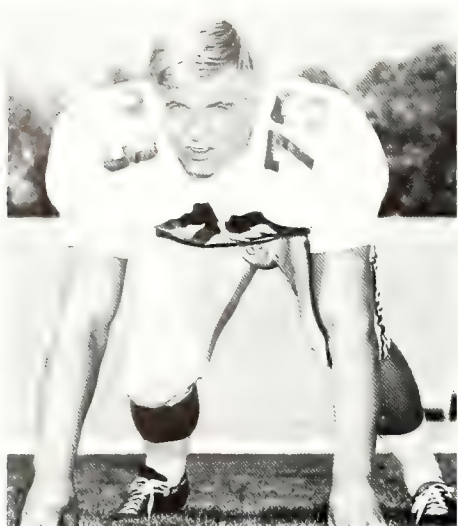

Fish Fans depict a Van Gogh painting showing swirling lines and violence through their movements in the water.

Fish Fans centered their Parents' Weekend performance around the theme "Picture That." They represented the mode of painting and themes of several well-known artists by water movement. The group attended the Aquatic Arts Festival in Spokane sponsored by Gonzaga University. Two fifty-dollar scholarships were given to two members of the group who had contributed the most in the way of service throughout the year.

Athletic Honors

Coach Jim Sweeney presents Steve Bartelle with the J. Fred Bohler Award for the outstanding football player of the year.

Larry Almborg, outstanding Steeplechase runner, received the Track Inspirational Award.

Cougar hoopster Ted Wierman, the recipient of the William Rusch Inspirational Player Award, charges towards the basket.

Gregg Field received the Conference Medal awarded to each school's scholar-athlete in the Pacific-8.

Cougar Sports Action

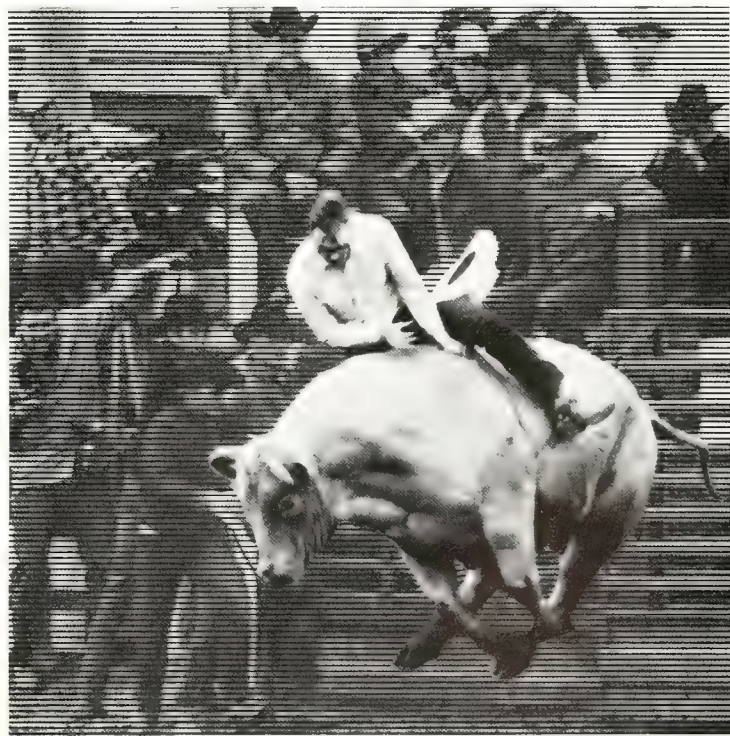

Stu Hunnings lets out a Cougar yell as he tosses the shot at a WSU Indoor meet.

Hank Grenda falls across the goal line for a touchdown in the 24-0 win over the Huskies.

Mick Andersen of the WSU rodeo team shows good form as he bulldogs this steer.

A college bull rider attempts to get off his jumping bull during the Rodeo held Parents' Weekend.

Cougar Sports Extras

Butch VI gets a little sun out on Rogers Field.

Cougarettes Betsy Husom and MaryAnn Miller contemplate a baseball game. Cougarettes helped out the team as batgirls this past season.

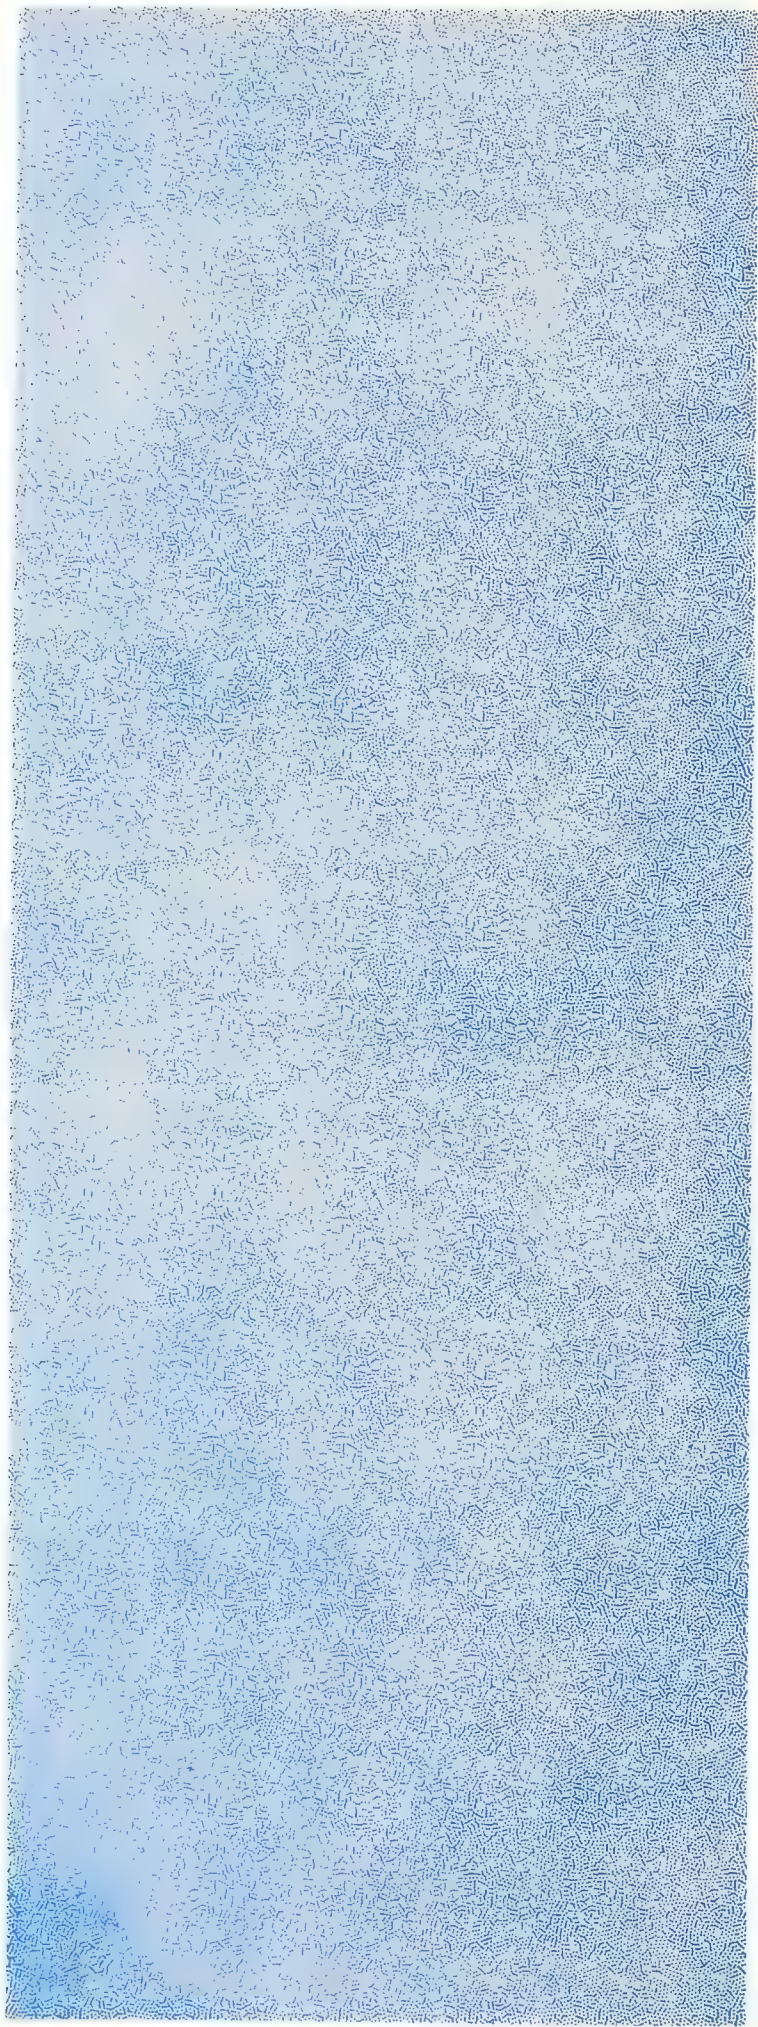

Cheerleader Donna Newberg appears to balance a basketball on her head at a home basketball game.

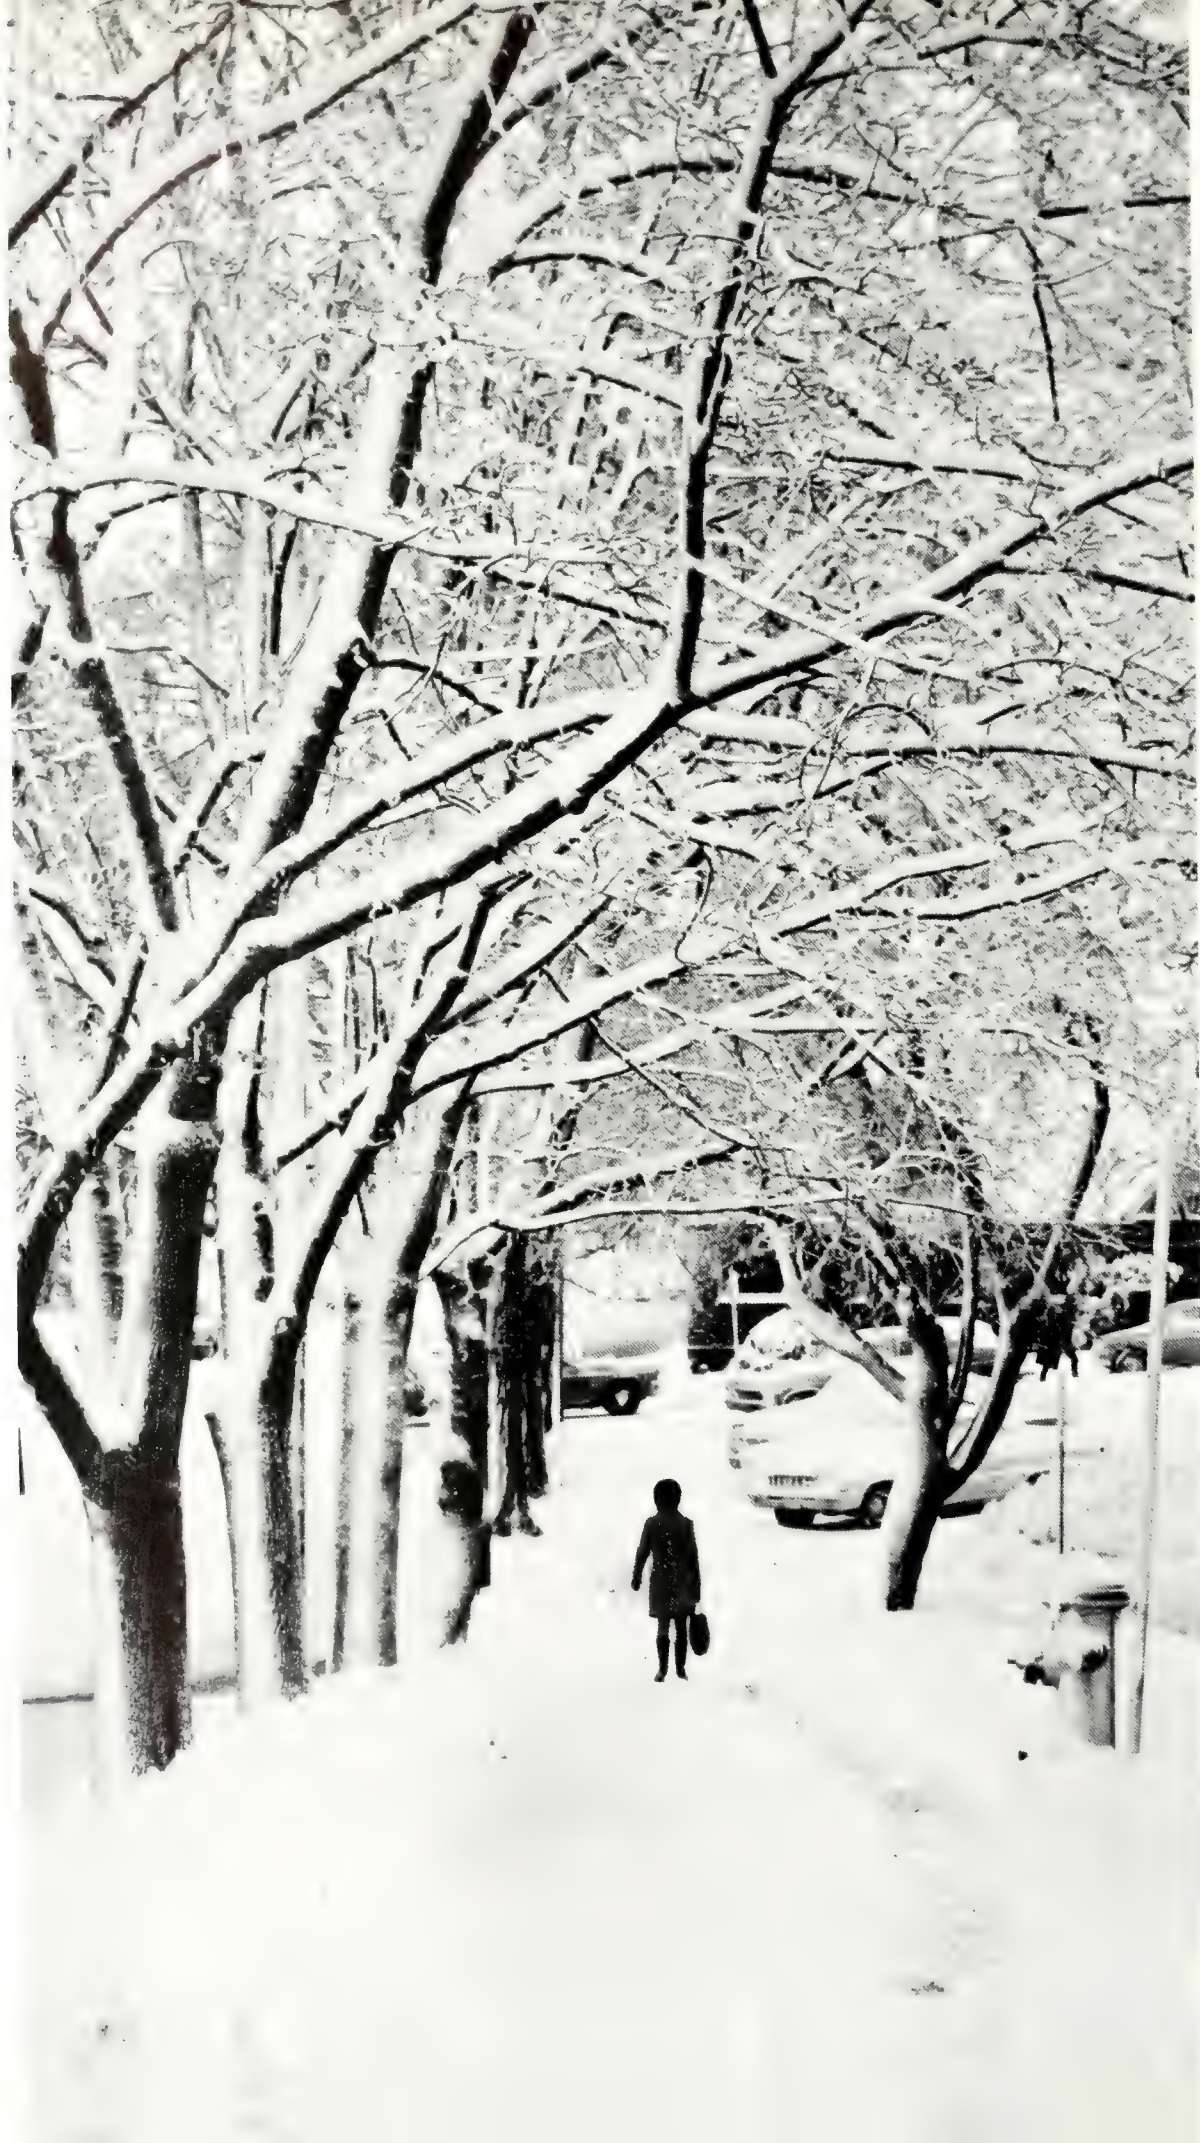

Head football coach Jim Sweeney leads a rousing cheer at a Cougar basketball half-time.

Halloween dinner with Tom Jones-style clothes, a freshman dinner, and a senior sneak were some activities of Coman Hall. Second place in Homecoming sign competition was proof of dorm spirit and enthusiasm. A dorm tea was found to be fun, although hectic. Enjoyment of the community is not what one would usually expect on a college campus. But if community is a dorm, pleasure is the obvious result with pajama parties and pixie week activities. Or perhaps Community spirit was best exemplified by participation in the spring raunch dance, or maybe by scholarship? Susan Montgomery led Community for the best year ever!

Playboy in a dorm? Of course, when it is Dr. Jonas comparing Playboy to the Victorian ethic in a speech to Davis Hall girls. Jane Peters, president, realized the importance of a united living group. Teas, a Christmas week to remember, and a fireside helped make it a close group. Scholarship was also emphasized with a dinner in honor of high scholastic performance.

Reputations for a good time may have been made in Duncan Dunn. It all began with a wake up breakfast, pixie week and a Christmas party. A panel on white racism, speakers on drugs, and a film view of Australia filled hours of the girls' time. In the spring, there was a raunch dance and Parents' Weekend activities. Water balloon fights and tag on the lawn filled up some of the remaining time.

Gannon group grooved! It all began with the playmate function. There were firesides and a spring formal involved in the choice of a playmate. Speakers at Gannon were Dr. Jonas, Dr. Scott, and Dr. Littlewood speaking on the year 2,000. The Pharmacy Department spoke on marijuana and its use. Max Ramble, President, was always available for advice and consultation to the 300 men.

Thar's gold in that thar dorm! At least Goldsworthy members would have claimed so. Scholars were honored two times during the year, with Dr. Terrell speaking, and also Dr. Raymond Muse. Movies were started as an entertainment for the men. A party supper was a highlight of the Christmas season according to the 324 men. President Chris Hunt is still talking about the success of the Coffee House, starring folk singers from the dorm. A raunch dance, a Christmas formal, and the traditional Playboy Penthouse dance with Gannon kept the men's toes tapping.

Co-ed living has been a very workable setup in Neill Hall. Most of the students were graduate students or members of Alpha Xi Delta. Activities included many stimulating discussions, a film on sex from the Sociology Department, a debate about marijuana, a guest speaker for dress dinner, and a white racism panel discussion. They also held a raunch dance at Merrymont Stables, a tea, and a picnic. Residents agreed with President Linda Parks that being a professional student would be fun if you could always live in a place like Neill.

Led by President Jim Short, the men of Orton Hall enjoyed their race down the Palouse in rubber rafts, a style show, and a concert. Orton also had speakers throughout the year and a panel discussion on the ethnic program. A pajama dance was enjoyed by all.

Quality and quantity were exemplified in Regents Hall. The four hundred women were led by President Kathy Antich. A raunch dance and a winter formal helped make a good year. Scholarship dinner and a sweetheart dinner made for culinary delight. Christmas, too, was not neglected with a busy pixie week, vespers, and a special dinner.

"The Great Pumpkín" was a sign of Rogers spirit. The Handsome Harry's of Rogers Hall selected the campus-wide Sweet Sue. Problems of the draft were taken to the head resident. He also took on projects for stealing the Gonzaga mascot, and fire alarms. President Joe Knight watched over a retreat to Camp Easter Seal, a pajama dance, a formal, and speakers.

A sucker on the door for freshmen awaiting fire drill instruction? A few showers for upperclassmen as a reward for pranks? Well, yes. And many more things occurred at Scott Hall. A junior ride, a mistaken fifth party, ultra-brite toothpaste, pets of all kinds, Homecoming marshmallow roast . . . the list goes on and on. President Dorothy Luby will always remember the Christmas formal and Christmas week.

"Water water everywhere, but not a drop to drink," at least when the water pipe broke on the front lawn of Stephenson North. How about the time they had a hootenanny at Stephenson South? There was also a dorm picnic at Spalding Park, and a steak dinner at the Snake. They also had pixie week, a Christmas party, caroling with Stephenson South, a formal, and speakers. It was a good year . . . another good year. They're looking forward to meeting with Stephenson East.

The men of Stephenson South had a good year despite the noise of construction next door where Stephenson East was fast approaching completion. In the spring, a formal was held with the theme of "April Love." Hootenannies and speakers were also on the agenda, under the direction of President William Carr. There were water fights, floor parties, basketball, and during the bad winter of '68-'69, many snowball fights.

Swinging with Stevens was easy to do! The girls in this dorm made it a joy to know each other. They entertained one another with a Christmas formal and tea, as well as pixie week. A speaker at a calm dinner was Dr. Towers. At a less calm meal-time affair, there were a few pies thrown. Pumpkin caroling was fun and so was the hayride, after which President Donna Johnson was thrown in the shower.

The Stimson Montezuma Club stomped through a year of dancing, Senate Christmas party, chorus line, coffee hours, and other activities. President Dave Godfrey saw to it that water fights were kept at a minimum, but high spirits and good men gave Stimson another successful year.

Girls, girls, girls! Six hundred to be exact, all living in Streit-Perham. President Jan Peterson had her hands full with this active group! Pixie week, Christmas dinner, and parties set off the holiday spirits. Dr. Cole came to the dorm for an informal discussion. A formal dance, teas, Sweet Sue, Homecoming sign, exchanges, freshmen breakfast, a raunch dance, and a pajama dance. Whew! Where will the list end? It won't, as long as the girls have memories to dig up.

Waller Hog Stomp is a dance, not an incident in the barnyard. It was a wild independent function which kept Waller in the campus eye. The annual Christmas Open House was a highlight of the year. The dorm was decorated and students toured the halls. President Randy Deasy arranged for speakers during the year.

Pandora's box is not full of as many surprises as Wilmer Hall. House meeting skits always offered something new. Fired debates occurred in a constant desire to spot a "house mother" in the crowd. President Terrell spoke at scholarship dinner, offering inspiration to the women. President Barb Williams is still trying to find out who started the fires in the incinerator.

"That's a familiar ring!", and away they go again! Firestation firemen and trouble shooters lived a life of excitement. Student Captain Gary Johnson never knew when he'd have to leave his comfortable room at the station. Ambulance runs and fire calls on and off campus kept members busy. The 19 man force had trips to the Snake, the Palouse, Intramural Sports, and First Aid Talks. Their most interesting functions proved to be firesides!

CAMPUS LIFE

Campus Life

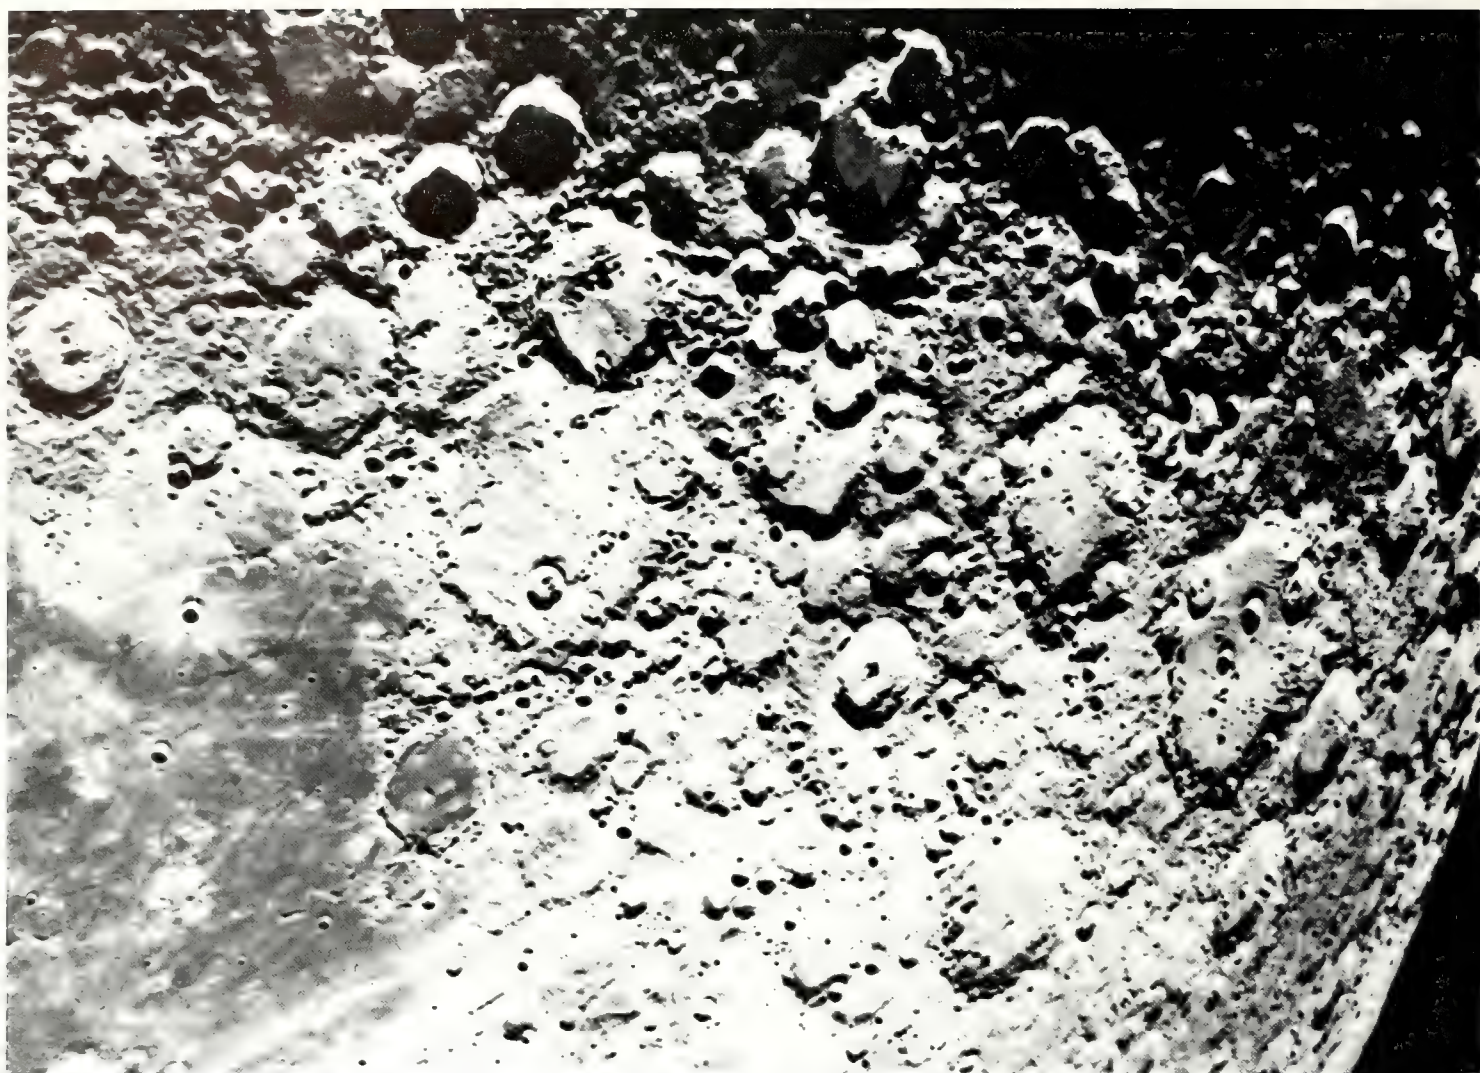

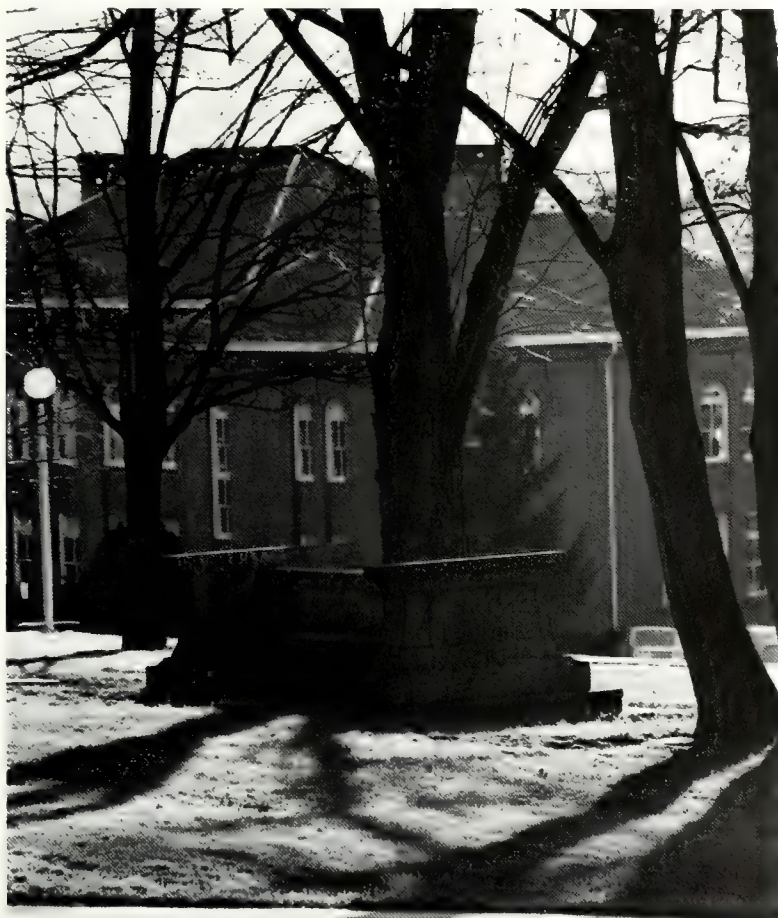

Not scenes from funny papers, not a comment for the old line "Kids will be kids." A world of understanding searched for . . . a unity of black and white broken . . . age barriers, price barriers . . . students with common problems and uncommon solutions. Today the campus, today the world.

Man's movement, small infinities, the narrow margin of man and moon. The eye searching the stars, placing them within the realm of fact and figures . . .

Yet, the moon does not seem to lose her romance, the age old mystery. And emerging from the close minute study comes a deeper love and feeling for nature's beauty. Her sight, her touch.
The more we know, the less we understand.

Years broken down into moments lived in like a comfortable shoe. A tavern becomes color, sound, and a cool beer. A dance to the raise of voices, glasses, shuffling feet . . .

Students let loose in brief moments of rhythm and nonsense. Flashes of non-thought, moments of emotion and mouths. Eating, drinking, and being merry? This is the time; it is not to be saved always for another day.

Laughter, moments together. We could be serious or joke.
HE: "TO THE WOODS!"
SHE: "NO I'LL SCREAM!"
HE: "TO THE WOODS!"
SHE: "NO I'LL SCREAM!"
HE: "LET ME HEAR YOU SCREAM."
SHE: eek
HE: "TO THE WOODS!"

The lady of bath recalled, or perhaps the old west. All evolving outward, outward moving, yet thinking always of the past. "I remember when dad told me about remembering when . . ."

"Wheatfields as far as the eye could see. Rollin', shimmyin' wheat heads. Clouds of dust rising far as a man could see."

We haven't missed the road too much. We've only had fun falling into the same chuckholes our parents fell into. Making our own mistakes. Making our way as far as the mind's eye can see in a life's day.

"Aladdin's Lamp" was the Alpha Delta Pi pledge dance held in the fall. A Christmas fireside brought folk singing and the sounds of guitars to 609 Linden. A semi-formal, "The Lusty Month of May," was held . . . when else, but in May. A panel on racism, sponsored by the YMCA, provided a chance for much discussion.

"Would you believe?" . . . Steam pipe problems, a racial uprising, and a formal dance? The AGRs were highly involved in all facets of campus life this year. An all-house exchange, a raunch pledge dance, or speakers for you? All at this house. Even 12 hamburgers in 15 minutes if you please. Or a deflated sign in back of an airplane. A mattress ride in the trunk of a car clear to Spokane? Possible only with this group.

Just one more hand, then we'll study.

Everyone admires Ann's paddle.

The AOPI pledges held their dance, "Barefoot in the Barn," during November. Instead of the usual scholarship banquet, a Tom Jones dinner was held to honor those receiving high grades. The Omni-Pi Christmas party was a huge success with the houseboys playing Santa and his helpers. In March the members honored the pledges at a formal. Also in March a tea was held to honor their housemother, Mrs. Emerson. With speakers from the SDS and a panel on drugs the AOPI's had a very active year.

Newly chartered at WSU was the Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Charter members never got to take a pledge sneak, but they made up for it by really celebrating Christmas. Planning a province convention, a formal, and installing a new chapter in Boise, Idaho were all activities of the sorority. The first formal was a huge success for the girls. The year also saw a pledge picnic, firesides, and campus interest.

The major activity for the men of Delta Chi was the Chi Delphia rush. Starting with one girl from each sorority, the men chose the approximately 20 girls who become the Little Sisters of the White Carnation. The auxiliary group helps the fraternity with teas and banquets. The girls are officially initiated at the White Carnation Ball held in Spokane in April. The group also put on the "Devil's Pit" raunch dance and held a Sweetheart dinner at Christmas.

Hosting 55 girls in a beautiful new house was the Delta Gamma Sorority. President Connie Casady led the girls in a year to remember. Seniors surprised the house at Christmas by waking all members up in the wee hours to a decorated house. Christmas Dinner, Pixie Week, and a Christmas party also highlighted the season. Speakers spoke, pledges planned, and the girls grooved.

The Sailors Ball and the Green Garter Pledge Dance were two of the main fall activities for the men of Delta Sigma Phi. The 38 members were also active in campus intramural sports. This year the fraternity was in charge of ticket sales for Greek Week Barbeque. The group includes two Butchmen and one member in charge of Junior Interfraternity Council. Highlight of the spring at the Delta Sig's was the Carnation Ball in May and the selection of the Dream Girl.

Kappa Delta, under the leadership of President Jean Stapleton, had a busy year. The 56 members of the sorority held a Christmas party, went caroling, had a fall pledge dance, and had a scholarship banquet. During Homecoming, their chariot came in second in the great race. Their candidate for Handsome Harry, Gregg Field, was a Swedish exchange student. All these made for an exciting year.

The seventy-nine members of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity found a lot to keep them busy. President Jim Van Woerden saw to it. At Christmas there was a house party. The Vienna Circle played at the formal pledge dance, and later there was a western dance and barbeque. A spring cruise was also planned.

Another year has gone by, and the Pi Beta Phis have made it a good one. The 55 members were led by President Joyce Jett. At a Christmas fireside, toys were given to dates and then given to an orphanage. A Christmas party was also given for alums. A pledge dance highlighted the year. Two speakers were presented to house members—Pat Farwell of the Peace Corps from Biafra and Dr. Bhatia of the Honors Program.

It's an "apparent trap" . . . once you're a Pi Kap. You just never want to leave. Remember the firesides, the serenades, the dinners? Recall the president, Bob Dixey, the pledge dance, the Dream Girl formal? Remember the songs? And who were those speakers? Major Prisk, Dean Kinney, lawyers from political science? Rally Squad members? Butchmen? Cheerleaders? We had them all in the Pi Kap house!

An all out effort to capture this year's intramural trophy didn't stop the SAEs from enjoying the "usual" fraternity activities. Among their better functions were the Christmas party with their Little Sisters of Minerva, the raunch dance, the "Grand Prix de Palouse" and "Acme" stationery. All in all, President Robin Rohwer and the SAEs enjoyed a very active year.

We're not egging you on when we say the Sigma Chis are great. One member this year had a bet on how many eggs he could bet down in an hour. Thirty-eight eggs later he was sick. A road race, number one in over-all intramurals, and a Sweetheart Ball highlighted the year for the Sigma Chis. President Tyler Hansell realizes the problems it takes holding down such a dynamic group.

As a result of much planning, President Randy Simmons and the other members of Tau Kappa Epsilon were offered many enjoyable activities. A semi-formal and pledge dance, a professors' dinner, a tree decorating party with their Daughters of Diana, and several speakers from the BSU and St. Thomas Moore were all on their busy agenda. The TKE's also found intramurals, water fights, and girl watching to be worthwhile activities.

At the Theta Xi Christmas fireside, joke gifts were exchanged between dates. The most unusual was a goldfish. After vacation, the men returned to find all of the radiators broken from the frozen water. Also during the winter, the annual pledge dance was held. "Dry Gulch Drag" had music by the "Journey's End." Improved relations with local alumni resulted in several profitable dinner meetings.

ADMINISTRATION

The Governor - Our State Administrator

Governor Daniel J. Evans on Mt. Adams.

A Message from the Governor:

Our society is becoming an educated society. College enrollments are swelling as our people see the value of furthering their understanding of our increasingly complex society. As we approach the 1970's our goal and our responsibility in this state and the nation are to provide high quality education for an increasing number of people. In scanning our educational system and in looking toward education in the future, we see the addition to our curricula of courses in technical fields which have emerged during the past few years. Our colleges must be staffed to handle these areas. However, our educational system must also instill in our citizens a desire and ability to help solve society's problems. Education must also help us to increase our sensitivity toward others as well as gain a fuller understanding of ourselves. Our challenges are great. The future of our society depends on how well we can prepare ourselves for the tremendous opportunities and challenges of the years ahead. I am confident that the dedicated young people of today can lead America toward a new unity, a new purpose, and a new prosperity tomorrow.

Board Sets University Policies

BOARD OF REGENTS: Michael Dederer, Seattle; H. H. Hahner, President, Walla Walla; Howard Morgan, Tacoma; Dr. H. Dewayne Kreager, Seattle; Lyle Neff, Pasco; Harold Romberg, Spokane. Not pictured: Mrs. Henry Owen, Seattle.

Policies, personnel, and practices of WSU fall under the jurisdiction of the Board of Regents. The seven Board members are appointed by the governor for six-year terms. Meeting with the administrators, a faculty executive board, and student groups fill up much of the Board's time. Open session meetings are usually once a month. Homecoming, commencement, and mandatory April 1 meetings are important dates for Board members.

Working to Maintain a Top Quality University

Footsteps clatter on concrete, echoing dead, unseen feet. Mind pacing, walking, running over all paths of all people on our campus. Dr. Glenn Terrell, President of Washington State University, is concerned with his job. Glenn Terrell, a man, deeply involved in the lives that make a university. Many paths juxtaposed on a few acres, on a wall map, on a globe. A microcosmic world on a hill, evolving ever outward. One man, belonging to all students and faculty. A possession good for a safe keeping.

President Glenn Terrell discusses many important matters with his secretary, Mrs. Genevieve DeFleming.

Progress is Dr. Wallis Beasley's most important product. Agencies which parallel and blend into one another are within his jurisdiction. He is also head of the Planning Council. What we wish to do, and how we plan to attain goals of the next ten to fifteen years are his major concern. Progress Power may be a new picket sign on the WSU campus.

Alumni Spirit Still Strong

The Alumni Center of WSU houses the executive offices and the office of all graduated students. Their main activities center around the promotion of the Scholarship and Development Fund. A new area of interest this year is attempting to increase the alumni involvement in all areas of the university. Hoping to improve educational patterns and the readiness of students to face the business world is its purpose. The director is actively associated with the senate legislation and gives them a better look at the needs and benefits of WSU.

Leaders Dírect and

Dr. Carey cares. As director of ASWSU activities and the Wilson Compton Union Building, Dr. Matthew G. Carey is building toward the future. Remodeling the CUB, and organizing the many activities there have kept Dr. Carey very busy for the past two years. He sank the TUB, (Temporary Union Building) and replaced it with a "new breed of cat," the CUB. Luxury and practicality have given WSU a well designed future, a newly created animal, the CUB-rat. This is a student who just can't stay away from the building. Happiness is a CUB.

Service With a Smile

Ralph M. Buttermore
Director
Student Health Service

"A stitch in time saves nine." Dr. Ralph Buttermore, Director of the Student Health Service, is in charge of a major operation. His nine years of labor include the birth of the "appointment only" system. Treating 225 students a day will no longer make doctors lose their patience. There is more time for leisurely efficient consultation. Students still employ the "apple-a-day" system, but it is comforting to know the WSU medical people will never cast aside a needy student. "Definitely no, yeah" would not throw Dr. William A. Cass off. As Director of the Counseling Center, he deals with social and emotional problems at WSU. He realizes there are not absolute black and white sides for all student problems. Through national testing, leadership and sensitivity training, and private counseling, his center deals with the student on a very personal level. Theodore E. Doty has a job, the nature of which is alien to many of us. He is director of International Programs. As a new Director this year he is devoting a world of service to his position. Students who find this campus Greek to them may go to Mr. Doty's office for foreign aid. The office is constantly striving for expansion, (today WSU; tomorrow the world). Growth beyond that is pretty difficult.

CUB Remodeling Facilitates

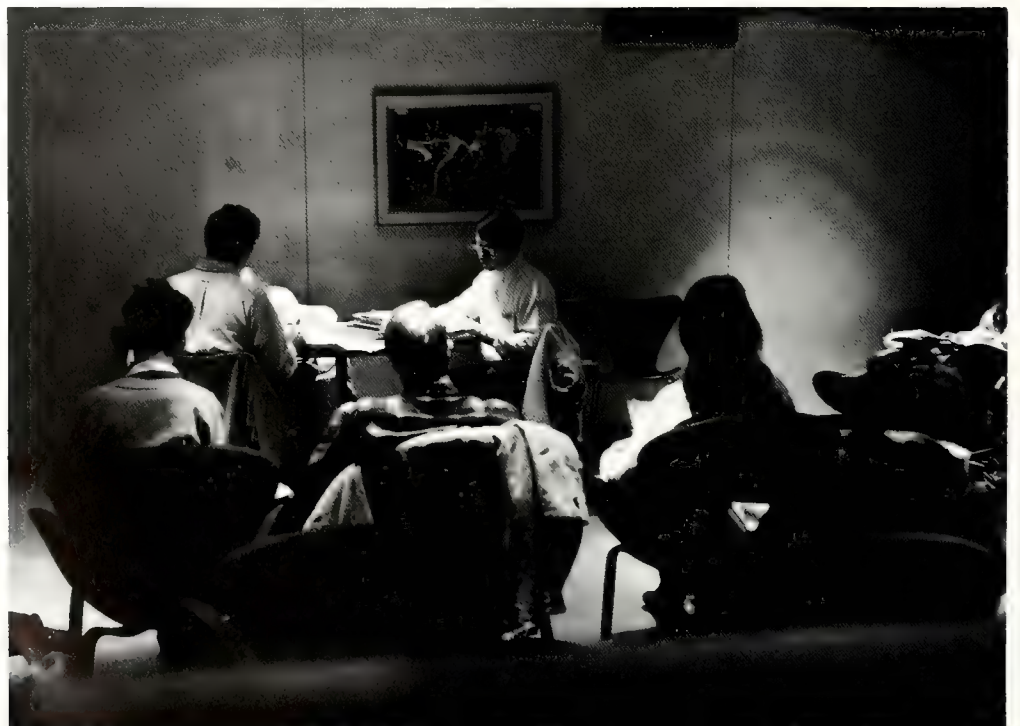

Uprooting of the sign was only a very small beginning to a $4 million remodeling job.

Everything has its place.

After a year of waiting, we moved back into the CUB.

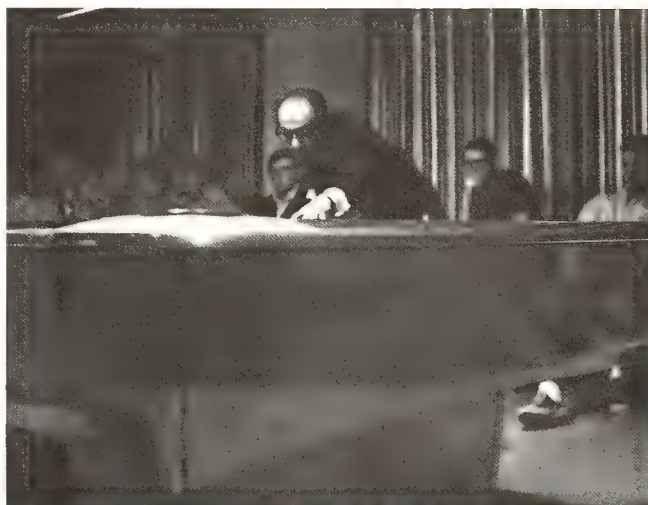

The listening lounge—one of the features of the newly re-opened CUB.

New, Better Look

President Glenn Terrell was the principal speaker at the CUB dedication, March 15, 1969.

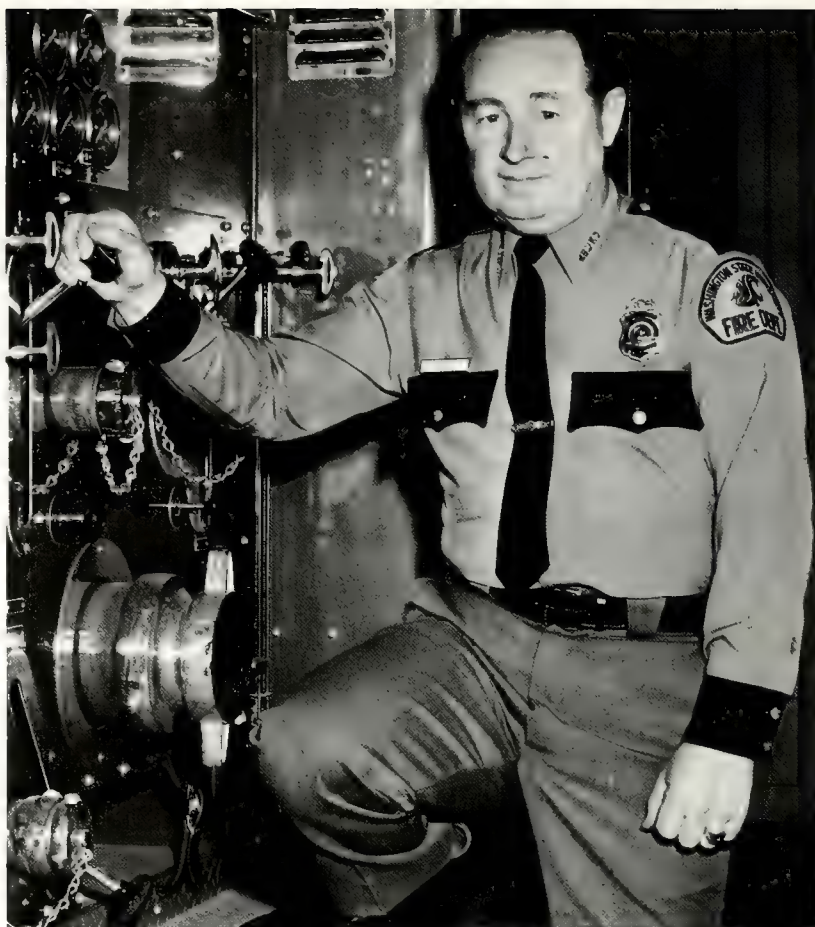

Jimmy Caras, five-time World's Pocket Billiard Champion, was featured in a billiard exhibition during dedication week.

One of the honored guests at the dedication was Mrs. Wilson Compton, wife of the late WSU President, for whom the CUB was named.

Police and Fire Chiefs Responsible for Campus Safety

Safety services at WSU received their greatest workout in history during the tense, troubled year of 1968-69. Growth, an ever-greater scarcity of parking spaces, and most of all the tensions stemming from a divided America all contributed endless problems day and night for the 15 hard-working men and women in police uniforms on this growing campus. Firemen also had their year of worries. They guarded all areas and people by operating the ambulance on 24-hour call, inspecting and preventing fire hazards, and staying vigilant against fires at all times. Their day-and-night emergency repair service was especially taxed. The worst crisis came during Christmas holidays as Pullman's worst winter reached 50 degrees below zero.

"Sweet Young Thing?" - Chinook Editor

Shy? Far from it.

What, me worry? You bet!

Black and white letters, pages, a hard cover, are nothing special. Add life to the letters by forming the right words, photographs carefully taken, working hard, a reflection of human life, and something special has been created. The 1969 Chinook is finished now. The year is gone, slipped somewhere into a memory. The year 1969 to be pulled down from a shelf and contemplated again in some future time and place. Laughter, tears, and everyday student life are reflected in this, for you of WSU, from us.

So my name isn't Gary Schell. It's mail isn't it?

Pub Board Planning Defies Ulcers

Talent is wonderful in the creation of Student Publications, but plain old good sense is needed too. Student Publications are under the jurisdiction of the Board of Publications. The Daily Evergreen, WSU's campus tri-weekly newspaper; Chinook, the campus yearbook; and Gamut, the literary magazine on campus, all answer to the Board. Technometer, the Engineering magazine, goes to the Board for advice. Approval of staff members and allocation of money, meetings with editors and decision making are some of the jobs the Board handles.

Publications Advisors

Wheels are turning on the publications staffs, but like every wheel there is a need for a hub to hold individual spokes together. The hub for Motif, Technometer, Chinook, and the Daily Evergreen consists of four important men. Wesley Calvert, as general over-all manager, is the man to organize and answer for the work done and not done on the publication staffs. Maynard Hicks is an advisor for Chinook, Motif, and Technometer. Tom Heuterman and Harlan Stensaas are newsroom and editorial advisors for the Daily Evergreen. These men all serve as instructors in the Communications Department. Aid and complaints go to these men from people on and off staffs.

During the Student Publications retreat, Daily Evergreen business start members Jeff Fletcher and John Morris study the situation at Slim's in Worley, Idaho.

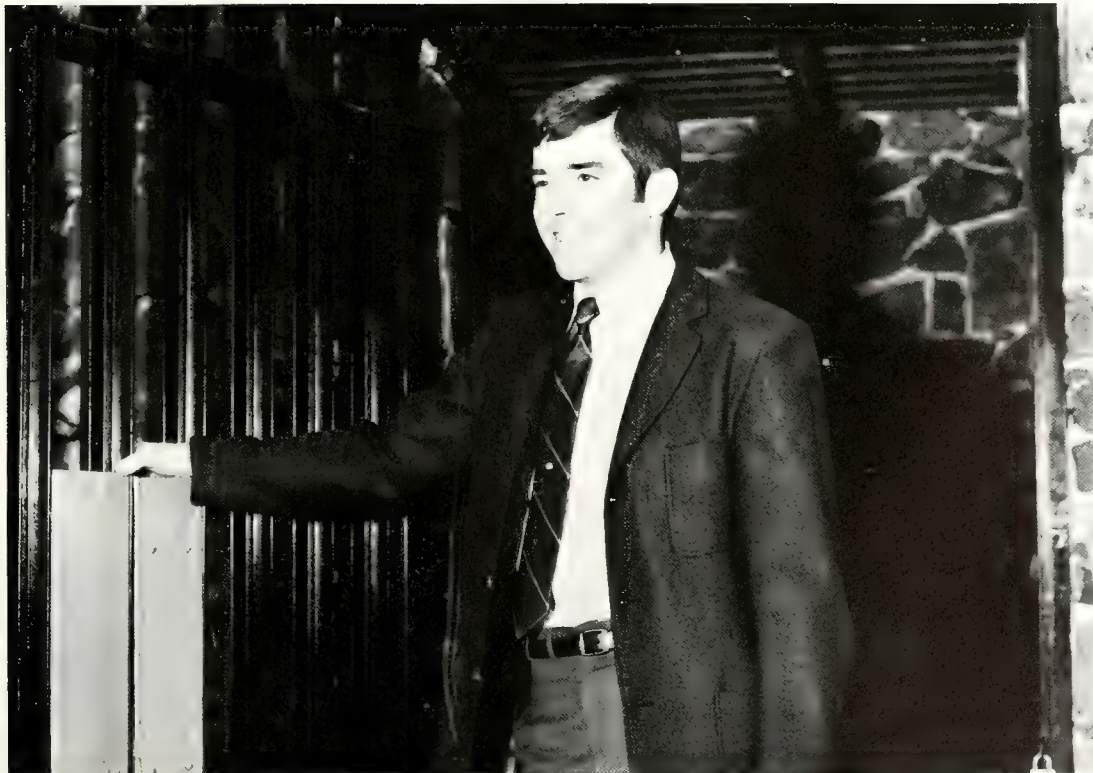

Editors and Business Manager

Jean Rosenbaum
Spring Editor
Daily Evergreen

A man of the times, Tom Curry, strove to be creative as Fall Editor of the Daily Evergreen. In the spring, a man's fancy turns to lighter things and so the editor of the paper was Jean Rosenbaum. These two editors were the go-betweens between the faculty and students, as well as the voice of the '69 generation. Care was important in selection, discretion, and a true voice of our era and telling the news "like it is."

Business Manager Jeff Fletcher handled all angles of sales, prices, and income for the Daily Evergreen. Long hours and careful tabulating made this job a difficult and arduous task.

Technometer Covers Engineering Events

Engineering fields couldn't function without the worthwhile publication, Technometer. The magazine is issued four times during the year. Campus engineering students, alumni in the field, and industrialists receive the magazine. It covers items of major interest in all engineering fields. The student magazine stretches from coast to coast in circulation. The Technometer has a governing board which is headed by Chairman Professor Robert Luedeking. Editor Gene Voiland, and Business Manager Del Roberts justifiably consider their magazine a success.

Gamut - Now Motif

Bruce Hartford
Motif Editor

The name of WSU's literary magazine was changed this year from Gamut to Motif. Bruce Hartford, its editor, in his planning decided to part ways with recent previous literary magazine endeavors. He felt he invested the entire year in explorations and planning in many directions to attempt to provide a literary magazine broadly based in the talents and accomplishments of a number of departments and of the entire university community. He led in tentative organization a staff with this goal in mind. He dealt in many directions with departments, students, individuals, and groups, and the publications board, trying to bring together the creation he visualized. The Motif was not published in 1969, but a base was laid for the new Motif for future development.

Many people spent hours sitting behind a typewriter working on the 1969 Motif that was never to be.

IN CLOSING

Spider light flashes
Then spins the dark web of Night.

My feelings are at both ends of the infinite
I believe in black and white, night and day.
I long to chase after butterfly dreams,
to ponder world reality,
And at the same time,
be true to myself.

An escape —
can also be a prison

Only through the eyes of a mirror can I see my soul—
its fancies, its flaws.
I watch myself
with disappointment, with pride sometimes,
and sometimes with closed eyes.

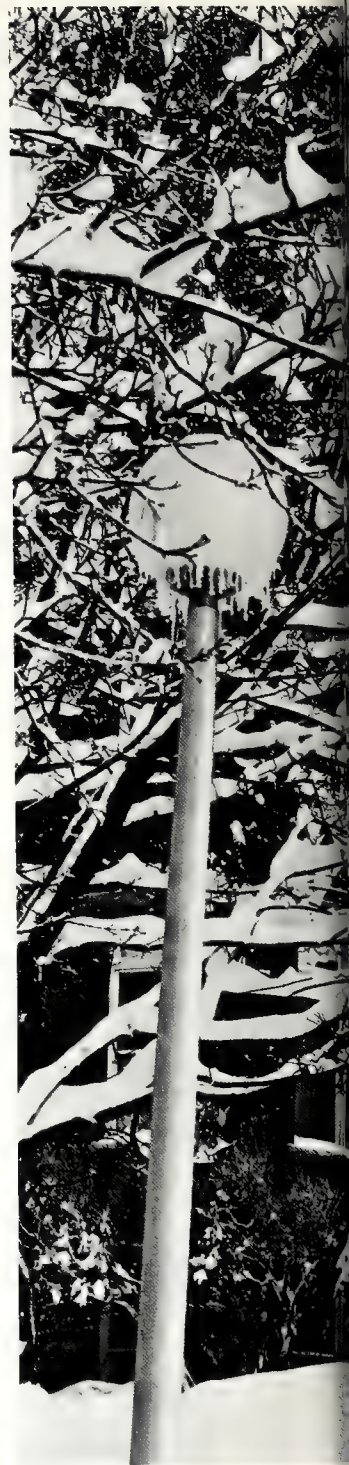

A fragile dream—
Waiting for the Wind of Chance

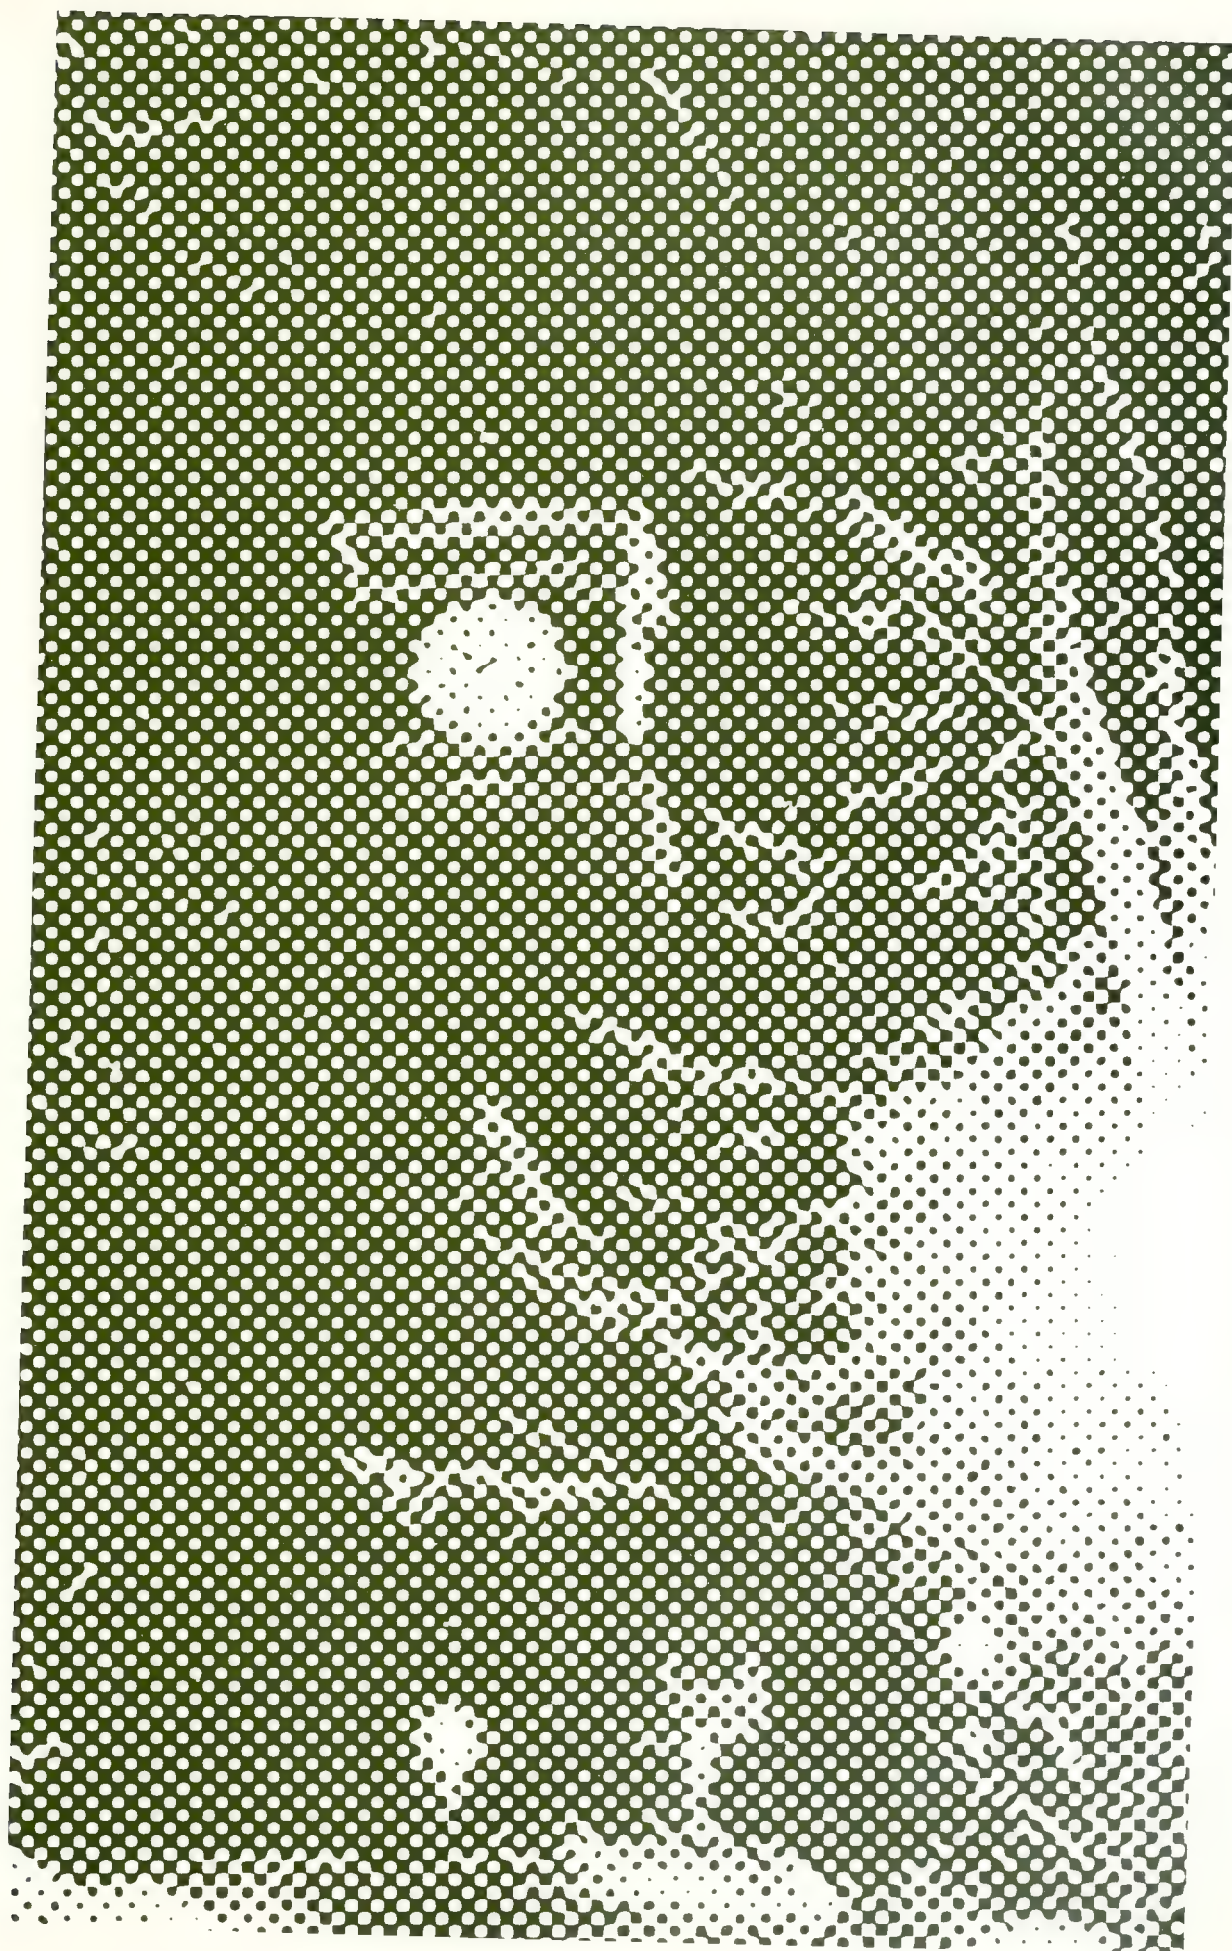

To search,
and sometimes to find,
That is Hope.

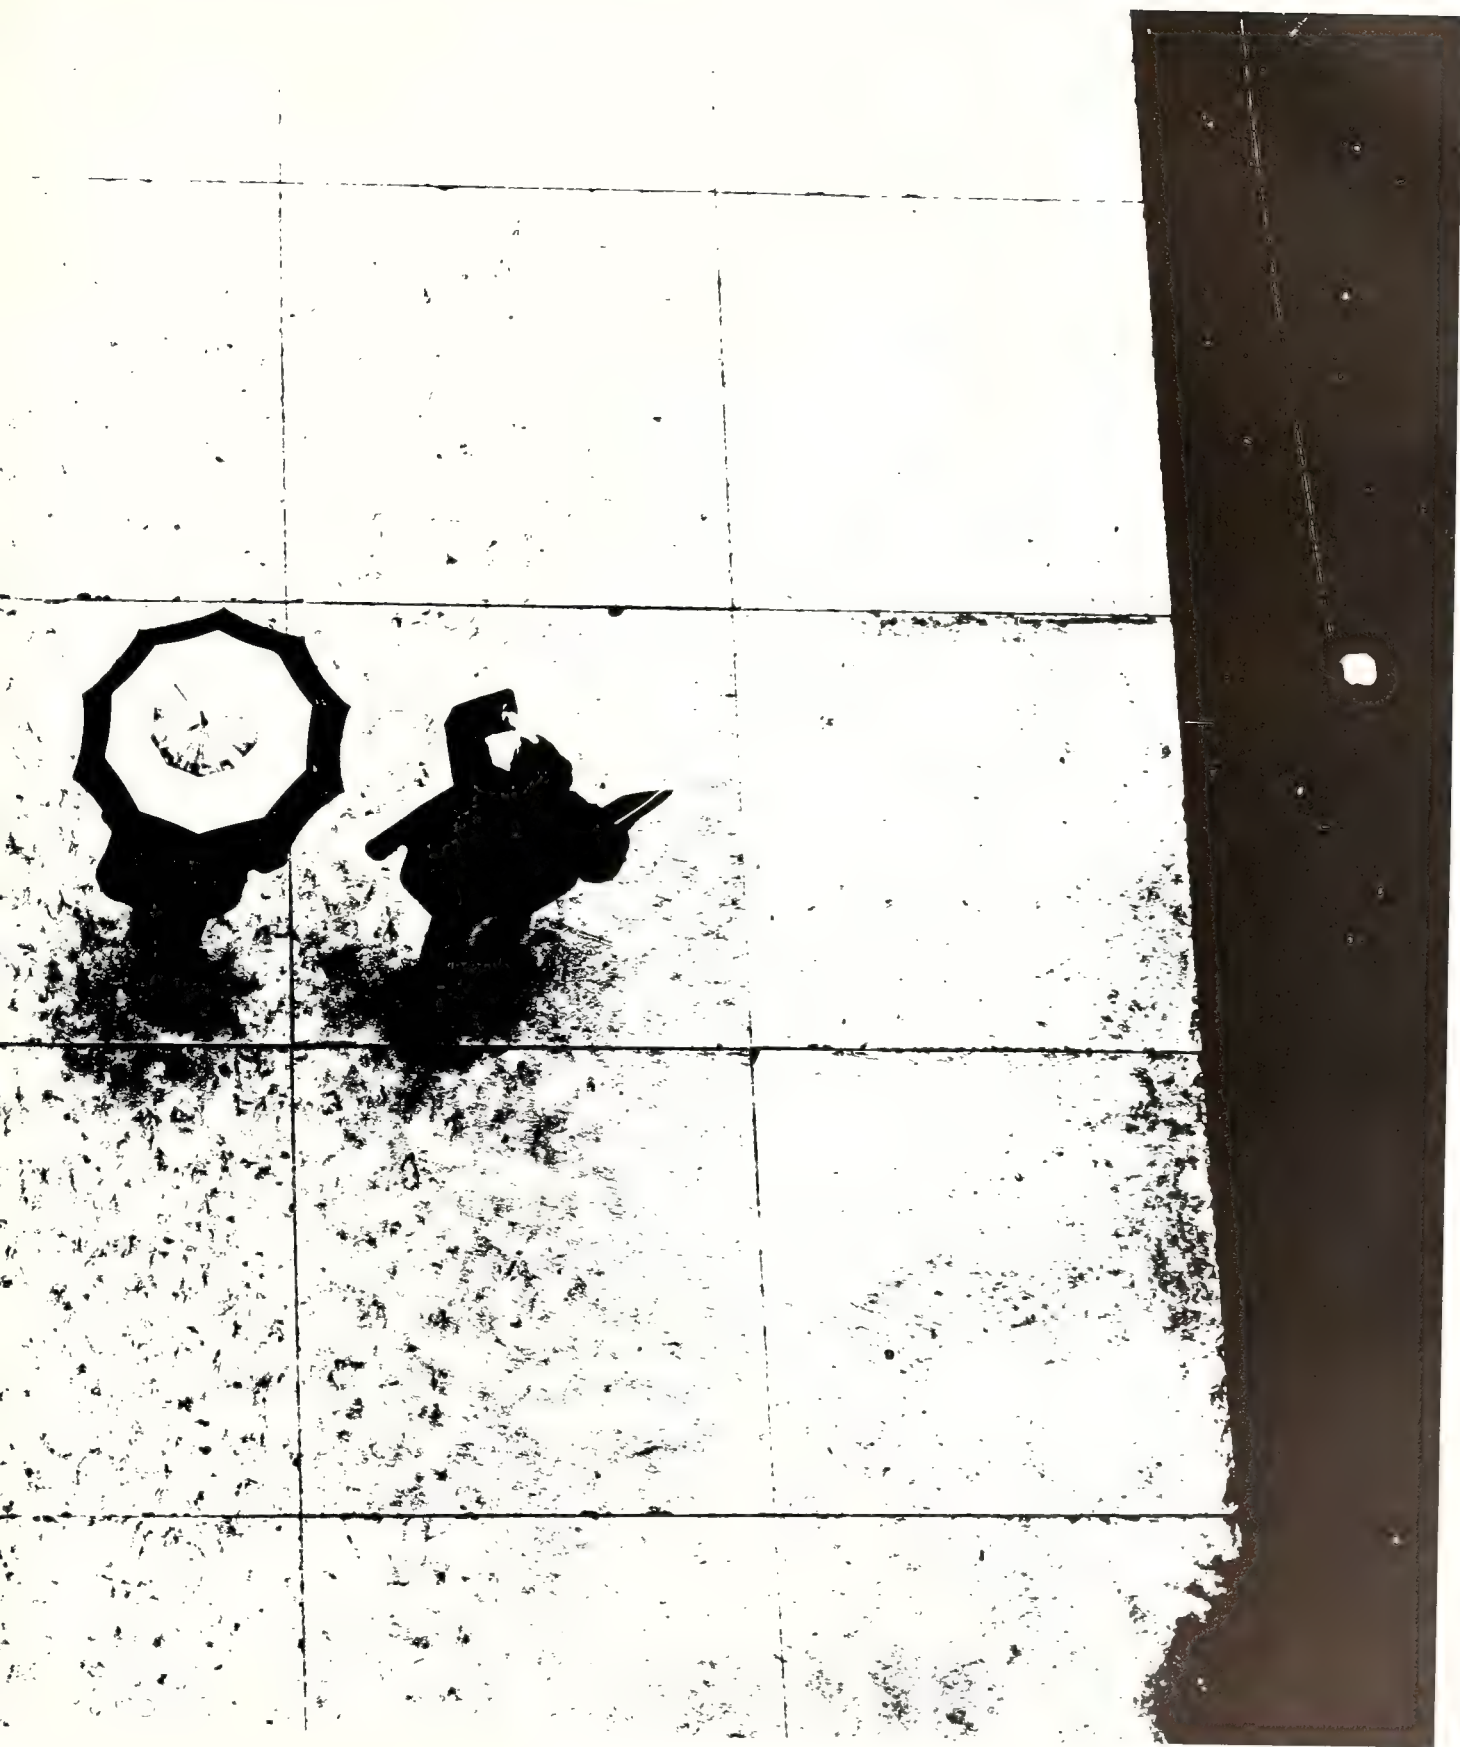

We change—
Mostly our perception though.
The giant school building is not so big anymore
Although the trees have grown along with us.
Everything is still the same,
We just see it all differently now.
It is time—Change—or just people that make us grow older?

Looking back on the year I realize Chinook means many things to me: the retreat, Slims, hard work, late nights, tears, laughter, Charlie Brown's, arguments, and apologies. These few words will have deep meaning for my staff as well as for myself. May their memories of working on the 1969 Chinook be as dear to them as they are to me.

Many people put in a lot of hard work on the 1969 Chinook so that you could have this opportunity to see the "Perspective" of the year 1968-1969. It is now my chance to thank those involved with the 1969 Chinook.

To my staff, a very hearty thank you for all your time and effort. I think you already know how much I appreciate what you have done.

P. M., it was a good year both at home and at the office. Remember the night of the handcuffs?

To "The Man", your patience and understanding during my times of need are greatly appreciated. You'll never be forgotten.

Barb, you always had a way of bringing me out of my "bad" moods. All our little trips sure proved to be relaxful. Thank goodness there was only one "Sunday night!"

L. N., it's been great from junior high on through college. The memories we have to share are numerous. Remember the mistaken identity at the beginning of the year?

To Sue, the best of luck next year and may all your upsets be minimal. Keep the membership of the O.M.S.A. and Mu Alpha Beta active!

Deb, without you entertaining on those late nights we would have never made it! How is your "friend" (M. C.) these days?

To Chris, many thanks especially for "that day." Everything turned out ok, didn't it? Don't get stuck anymore, please.

Gary, the girls of the staff enjoyed teasing you; you're good for morale. Be careful of those Saturdays, you never know what might happen.

John, thanks for being such a good listener. I'll lay odds I win our bet!

To Mr. Hicks, a very special thanks. You're indispensable! Your understanding and sympathy of student problems and complaints helped me and my staff have a better year.

The business staff did an outstanding job this year, thanks Mark and Carl. Keep up the good work.

To Mr. C, for his worry about finances. I would have broken the bank given half a chance.

To those at WSU Photo, Betty, Bob, and Arden, thank you for your cooperation, especially when it came to the mad rush for prints. Bob, I'll always remember your dark room!

To the Student Photographers, you are essential to the book. Jim, you've been just "fantastic!" Hope to see you at Gotchum Creek Guard Station sometime.

Jerry, thank you for being so helpful, especially when you received my frantic phone calls. It's been good working with you.

Credit for the publishing of the 1969 Chinook goes to Pischel Yearbooks, Inc. Many thanks to all those that helped with the publishing.

I want my staff, my friends who had to put up with me all year, and all others who helped directly or indirectly in creating the 1969 Chinook to know that I will miss you all very much. Good luck to each and every one of you in your life's goal.
